

MEXICAN CAMPAIGN AT STANDSTILL 'TIL SCOTT MAKES REPORT

SECRETARY BAKER ADMITS DIS-PATCHES TOLD OF RUMOR THAT DE FACTO OFFICERS
ASKER PERSHING NOT TO PRO-CEED FURTHER THAN PARRAL.

DIAZ MOVEMENT CAUSES WORRY

Indications Point to Efforts to Undermine Carranza and That Involved Financial Condition of Country Is Proving Helpful to Friends of Newest Revolution.

By the Associated Press.
Washington, April 21.—President Wilson and the cabinet discussed the Mexican situation today, decided on no course of action. Further steps by the United States toward the pursuit of Villa or withdrawal of the troops from Mexico will await a full report from Major General Scott, chief of staff of the army, as to conditions on the border and in Mexico.

General Scott, who reached San Antonio, Texas, tonight to confer with General Funston, was not expected to send a report on the situation until tomorrow. His full report upon which a decision as to the next step to be taken probably will not be made until his return to Washington. When he left here the chief of staff said he would make his investigation and return as quickly as possible. He could not indicate how long he might be gone.

Pending word from General Scott, Secretary Baker reiterated his statement that no change had been made in orders to General Funston and that the department had no knowledge of any change in the latter's orders to General Pershing. His full report upon which a decision as to the next step to be taken probably will not be made until his return to Washington. When he left here the chief of staff said he would make his investigation and return as quickly as possible. He could not indicate how long he might be gone.

RUMOR MEXICANS HAVE WOUNDED PERSHING.

The secretary admitted that official dispatches had carried as a rumor the report that Mexican officers had warned General Pershing not to proceed south of Parral. It was learned at the state department that a report to this effect was received some days before the Parral incident through consular agents.

Mr. Baker insisted that the warning had made no change in the department's orders to the border forces.
It was indicated tonight that a reply to General Carranza's telegram calling attention to the clash at Parral and asserting that the American commander had violated his orders and the agreement with the de facto government in entering the town, would be dispatched soon. War department officials say the report on the incident from General Pershing, Major Thompkins and other officials is not complete.

While immediate interest centers naturally in the situation as to the troops in Mexico there were renewed indications today that the state department is wholly disinterested in the aspect of the Mexican problem was causing a growing concern. That is the movement supposedly headed by Felix Diaz, nephew of the former Mexican dictator, for a new government against the de facto government. None of the information upon which the uneasiness rests has been disclosed. It is known however, that several Mexicans in the United States are being closely watched and it seems possible that some of the anti-American feeling in Chihuahua state which has met the troops pursuing Villa may be attributed to this movement.

DIAZ MOVEMENT MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

The Diaz movement, it is said, has the backing of various elements of Mexicans both in Mexico and in this country. As viewed by the state department it is understood that the activities of these persons are the more dangerous because they are wealthy while the de facto government is involved in a struggle for financial accommodations which would be hard to overcome even in times of complete peace.

While no definite information was obtainable tonight there were indications that some Washington officials at least thought it possible that the Diaz interests were seeking to undermine General Carranza among his various commanders. The revolution could be started in territory where American troops were operating, it is regarded as possible that recent events were the result in part at least of a deliberate effort to create conditions that would compel the withdrawal of American troops from the United States to a point where intervention and military occupation of Northern Mexico might result.

Carranza Would Let U. S. Use Railroads to Get Out

By the Associated Press.
El Paso, Texas, April 21.—It was stated unofficially in Juarez that General Carranza would in all probability place the Mexican railroads at the disposal of General Pershing if the expeditionary force was withdrawn.

General Gaviro, the Juarez commander, while declining to make a definite statement, expressed his belief that the use of the railroads for the disposal of the American troops would not be regarded unfavorably by the Carranza government.

"The decision on such a step," he said, "rests solely with General Carranza and his advisers and it would not be proper for me to express my views. However, I feel sure our government is willing to do everything in its power to maintain the friendship between Mexico and the United States

LONE BANDIT USES ONE OF TRAIN CREW TO HELP HOLD UP

By the Associated Press.
Rawlins, Wyo., April 21.—Union Pacific passenger train No. 21 was held up by a bandit west of Hanna, Wyo., early tonight. After compelling a member of the train crew to take up a collection from the passengers in the observation car the bandit compelled the brakeman to receive the valuables of the passengers in one of two sleepers. As the train approached Edison, Wyo., the bandit dropped off and ran toward the hills.

The bandit, who is believed by railroad officials to be the man who recently committed two similar hold-ups in this section, is thought to have boarded the train at Greeley, Colo.
After engaging a brakeman in conversation the bandit drew two guns.
The passengers of the observation car were forced to drop their valuables into a hat held by the guard who then handed them to the brakeman. The bandit through the first sleeper, where, however, none of the passengers was molested. As the bandit leaped from the rapidly running train he rolled down the embankment, regained his feet and disappeared into the hilly country. A special train with a sheriff's posse left immediately to take up the chase from Edison.

Forty-three passengers in all were compelled to yield their money and valuables. One shot which went wild was directed at James Sherlock, conductor, when the latter hesitated a moment when the bandit shouted "All hands up!"

No Human Being in Sight at Verdun

By the Associated Press.
Paris, April 21, 6:01 p. m.—Gaston Deschamps, writing in the Temps, gives a vivid description of his visit to the Verdun front, from which he has just returned. The account follows:

"The vast battlefield was veiled by a sleety rain, but Verdun, Douaumont and Le Mort Homme were vaguely outlined in the distance. Verdun, wounded but still upright, stood like a sentinel guarding the entrance of the valley above the blackened ruins of houses, while the towers of the cathedral rose like two outstretched arms in protest against the misery and destruction about them. The citadel still stands unscathed.

"Villages now are abandoned and become military positions where the further presence of civilians is impossible. The whole aspect of the vast pa-orama is one of intense melancholy.
At intervals incendiary bombs burst among the ruins, throwing great clouds of black smoke and debris, from time to time fires were started by bombs and here and there village houses were seen blazing through the mists, but amid all this scene of fire and explosion no human being could be seen anywhere, as it was hidden among the ruins of the war.

"One could see the ancient ruins of the old Roman camp in this vicinity where the Romans resisted the German invaders, even Rue Mazel, the main thoroughfare of Verdun, being an ancient Roman road."

Thirty Killed in Bordeaux Explosion

By the Associated Press.
Bordeaux, April 22, 12:05 a. m.— Thirty persons are believed to have been killed in the explosion of the powder branch of a grenade factory here today. Already twenty-eight bodies have been taken out of the debris.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been established but the belief is that a spark from the electrical machinery set off powder while it was in the process of being mixed. A number of persons were injured.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE.

By the Associated Press.
Farmington, N. Y., April 21.—
Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, conferred here today with Louis Chevrolet, who claims to have discovered an inexpensive powder which by the addition of water can be substituted for gasoline as fuel for motor cars. The outcome of the meeting was not disclosed.

NEW SUBMARINE HAS BEEN DELIVERED

By the Associated Press.
Boston, April 21.—The submarine L-3, one of the largest sub-mersibles in the United States navy, was formally delivered to the government by her builders, the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation, at the Charlestown navy yard today and immediately placed in commission. The seven vessels of this class, each with a cruising radius of 5,500 miles, will be in service by July 1, the builders stated.

and will take any step which is compatible with the dignity of the Mexican nation. To have given the railroads to the American troops entering Mexico would have been a step which would have been deeply resented by the Mexican people, but to permit them to use the railroad to leave Mexico would be a very different matter. Mexico has a war mired for President Wilson and believes he is a true friend of our republic."

Mexican officials here and in Juarez are keenly interested in the coming conference between General Scott and General Funston at San Antonio. The opinion is expressed frankly that every additional day the American columns remain in Mexico seriously increases the danger of an outbreak on the part of the people which might have the greatest consequences.

MONTANA LOOKS DEMOCRATIC.

Cummins Leading G. O. P. But Many Written in Teddy's Name.

By the Associated Press.
Helena, Mont., April 21.—Scattered returns received early tonight from today's presidential preference primary showed that President Wilson polled more votes than all of his republican opponents together.

Colonel Roosevelt's name was written on the ballot by about one-fourth of the republican voters.
Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa polled three to one over Colonel Roosevelt in twelve precincts. The other republican candidate, Edward Randolph Woods of New Jersey, received but a few votes.

This was Montana's first presidential preferential primary and the first time that women voted.

OPPOSED TO WOMAN'S PARTY.

Los Angeles Clubs Will Not Officially Receive Suff. Delegation.

By the Associated Press.
Los Angeles, Cal., April 21.—No women's clubs of Los Angeles or this vicinity will receive officially the party of women who will arrive here tomorrow representing the congressional union for woman suffrage, according to club women here today. The Friday Morning Club here has adopted resolutions expressing the sentiment of the club as being "unalterably opposed to a woman's party."

Mrs. Clara Snell Wolfe of Austin, Texas, who arrived here ten days ago to "assist" in making whatever plans were contemplated by California club women for the reception of the suff-ragists said the opposition of clubs here was simply "the refusal of conservatives to recognize officially the militant party."

Red Cross Unable to Ship Supplies to Germany

By the Associated Press.
Washington, April 21.—American Red Cross headquarters announced tonight that because of inability to secure permits from the entente allies for shipment of supplies of any kind to the central powers, it had become necessary to request all Red Cross chapters and other relief organizations to refrain until further notice from sending such supplies to the Brooklyn terminal warehouse for shipment.

Railway Managers Meet in New York

By the Associated Press.
New York, April 21.—Presidents or other executive officers of the railroads in all three territories affected by the demands of the four brother-hoods of railway employees for higher wages and an eight hour day, met here today to make preliminary arrangements for the coming negotiations with the executives of the brotherhoods for a settlement of the demands.

A committee consisting of the secretaries of the three groups of railway managers—John G. Walber of the eastern roads; J. J. Higgins of the western; and C. B. Neill of the southwestern was appointed to meet the officers of the brotherhoods to arrange for a time and place for carrying on negotiations. It was thought likely that either New York or Chicago would suit the wishes of both sides.

The union of the employees were presented to the railroads individually on April 1, with the request that the roads join in settling the questions at issue collectively. They were given until April 23 to make a reply which is expected to be soon forthcoming.

Prussian Finances in Bad Shape

Amsterdam, April 21.—Via London.—
The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin publishes an interview with Dr. Von Lentze, Prussian finance minister, in which he forecasts great financial difficulties not only for the German empire, but for the individual states of the empire. He expresses the belief that it may be necessary for the empire to levy direct taxes upon the states, and that the German constitution does not provide for such measures. The prolongation of the war, Dr. Von Lentze contends, compels recognition of hard facts.

RUSH RADIO NAVAL STATION.

Government Working Hard on Point
Isabel (Tex.) Plant.

By the Associated Press.
Brownsville, April 21.—The United States radio naval station at Point Isabel, Texas, 22 miles below Brownsville, on the Gulf of Mexico, will be rushed to completion, according to advices from Washington tonight.

The station, construction of which has been held up for months owing to delayed steel shipments, is designed to connect the Panama and Canal zone American warships at Mexican ports with the wireless station at Arlington. Steel for the plant is being imported and has been shipped from eastern mills.

The Point Isabel station, it is said here, will form an important link in naval communication between the canal zone and the United States.

tive sessions lasting eleven days. A.

president of the affiliated organization, and the present crafts presidents were re-elected. St. Louis was chosen as the seat of the next biennial convention.

VON DER GOLTZ DIES OF SPOTTED FEVER

By the Associated Press.

Amsterdam, via London, April 22.
3:25 a. m.—Baron Kolmar von Der Goltz, commander-in-chief of the first Turkish army, died Wednesday of spotted fever at the headquarters of his Turkish army, according to an official announcement received here from Berlin. He had been ill ten days.

Field Marshal von Der Goltz was regarded as one of Germany's greatest strategists. He was 72 years old. He had seen extensive military service, having fought in the Austrian campaign and been on the staff of Prince Frederick Charles in the Franco-Prussian war. In 1883 he was sent to reconstruct the Turkish army and remained in Turkey for thirteen years.

In August, 1914, he was appointed military governor of the occupied part of Belgium, but in November of the same year he was relieved of this command and sent to Turkey where he was appointed military commandant at Constantinople and acting minister of war. He was instrumental in forming the strong Turkish defense on the Gallipoli peninsula and frequently predicted that the allied fleet would not be able to force a passage of the Dardanelles. He received his command as the first Turkish army commander in April of last year when he succeeded General Liman von Sanders in command of the Dardanelles.

Recent dispatches reported Field Marshal von Der Goltz engaged in operations in Asiatic Turkey. Before the fall of Erzerum he was said to be bottled up in that Turkish stronghold with 80,000 Turks.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE VERDUN FRONT

By the Associated Press.

On all the fronts around Verdun the Germans are heavily bombarding the French positions, especially those occupied by the French in their last attack around Le Mort Homme, northwest of the fortress and in the sector from the eastern bank of the Meuse to Fort Vaux. No infantry engagements have taken place around Verdun, although Paris records the occupation of a portion of a crater made by a German mine in the Argonne forest.

Tentons in East Galicia near Popovagora went on the offensive against the Russians, but Petrograd asserts that their efforts were without result. The bombardment by the Germans of the Russians holding the Baskul bridgehead is still in progress.
Further south of this point, west of Otyka and north of Mouravtza, the Germans essayed an attempt against Russian trenches, but were repulsed.
On the Austro-Italian front there have been the usual artillery duels and at various points small infantry engagements. At no point, however, has any important change in position taken place.

Petrograd reports that the Russian Caucasus army continues on the offensive against the Turks in the Black sea district of Asia Minor. Constanitinople in acknowledging the occupation of Trebizond by the Russians says that the latter had been evacuated in anticipation of its capture. The Turkish troops withdrawing "in accordance with instructions to a sector where they will have a new task to fulfill."

Another defeat of the British in the Tigris region near Fehalie is recorded by Constantinople. The British are declared to have been forced to abandon with heavy losses advanced positions and had to be compelled to retreat westward.

WILSON SEES GRANDCHILD

Baby Sayre Now Weighs Eight and a Half Pounds, Is Announced.

By the Associated Press.
Philadelphia, April 21.—President Wilson arrived here at 4 p. m. today to visit his daughter, Mrs. Francis B.
Sayre and his granddaughter, Eleanor Axson Sayre, born here March 26. It was the first time the president had seen the new baby, the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Sayre.

Although news of the president's intention to come to Philadelphia preceded him only a few hours, a large crowd was at the station and applauded him. The president's party planned to remain here less than two hours and then return to Washington.

President Wilson left here on his return to Washington at 5:15 p. m. He spent an hour with his daughter and her baby. It was announced that the

Pershing's Troops Being Re-outfitted

By the Associated Press.

Field Headquarters of General Pershing, Nampiki, Mex., via Wireles to Columbus, N. M., April 21.—Gen. John Joseph Pershing is utilizing the lull in the operations in re-outfitting his troops. The clothing and equipment of the men suffered greatly in the pursuit of Villa and every effort is being made to replace them. Quantities of stores are being received from the base at Columbus.

Reports were received from points along the American line of communication tonight indicating that quiet prevailed everywhere. The forces of the expeditionary command are now well concentrated. All operations are at a halt, awaiting the outcome of the conference at San Antonio between Generals Hugh L. Scott and Frederick Funston.

Disposing of Sisal Crop Taken Up

By the Associated Press.

Washington, April 21.—The federal trade commission today began its task of supervising the marketing of what is left of this year's Yucatan sisal crop by telegraphing to all the binder twine manufacturers in the United States for an estimate of their requirements for the 1916 season. About 125,000 bales are to be distributed.

The trade commission was directed by the senate to oversee distribution of the sisal after the omission of regulation of Yucatan, accused by the international harvesting company of creating a sisal shortage to bring about a rise in prices, and for some other government agency market the rest of the crop.

All the interests involved in the controversy attended a conference with members of the trade commission when distribution plans were made. The sisal interests agreed to hold deliveries until June 1 to give the trade commission time to report to the senate on the situation.

sponsibility cabinet.

"This is intended," says the man-of administrative reform. I hope the members of the government will work

MEXICAN CAMPAIGN AT STANDSTILL 'TIL SCOTT MAKES REPORT

SECRETARY BAKER ADMITS DISPATCHES TOLD OF RUMOR THAT DE FACTO OFFICERS ASKED PERSHING NOT TO PROCEED FURTHER THAN PARRAL.

DIAZ MOVEMENT CAUSES WORRY

Indications Point to Efforts to Undermine Carranza and That Involved Financial Condition of Country Is Proving Helpful to Friends of New Revolution.

By the Associated Press. Washington, April 21.—President Wilson and the cabinet discussed the Mexican situation today but decided on no course of action. Further steps by the United States toward the pursuit of Villa or withdrawal of the troops from Mexico will await a full report from Major General Scott, chief of staff of the army, as to conditions on the border and in Mexico.

General Scott, who reached San Antonio, Texas, tonight to confer with General Funston was not expected to send a report on the situation until tomorrow. His full report upon which a decision as to the next step to be taken probably will not be made until his return to Washington. When he left here the chief of staff said he would make his investigation and return as quickly as possible. He could not indicate how long he might be gone.

Pending word from General Scott, Secretary Baker reiterated his statement that no change had been made in orders to General Funston and that the department had no knowledge of any change in the latter's orders to General Pershing. No official report had been received, he said, that the expedition was at a standstill.

RUMOR MEXICANS HAVE WOUNDED PERSHING.

The secretary admitted that official dispatches had carried a rumor that Mexican officers had warned General Pershing not to proceed south of Parral. It was learned that the state department had a report to this effect was transmitted some days before the Parral incident through consular agents.

Mr. Baker insisted that the warning had made no change in the department's orders to the border forces. It was indicated tonight that a reply to General Carranza's telegram calling attention to the clash at Parral and asserting that the American commander had violated his orders and the agreement with the de facto government in entering the town, would be dispatched soon. War department officials say the report on the incident from General Pershing, Major Thompson and other officials is not complete.

While immediate interest centers naturally in the situation as to the troops in Mexico there were renewed indications about the state department today that a wholly different aspect of the Mexican problem was causing growing concern. That is the movement supposedly headed by Felix Diaz, nephew of the former Mexican dictator, for a new revolution against the de facto government. None of the information upon which the uneasiness rests has been disclosed. It is known, however, that several Mexicans in the United States are being closely watched and it seems possible that some of the anti-American feeling in Chihuahua state which has met the troops pursuing Villa may be attributed to this movement.

DIAZ MOVEMENT MAY CAUSE TROUBLE.

The Diaz movement, it is said, has the backing of various elements of Mexicans both in Mexico and in this country. As viewed by the state department it is understood the activities of these persons are the more dangerous because of the fact that while the de facto government is involved in a snarl of financial complications which would be hard to overcome even in times of complete peace.

While no definite information was obtainable tonight there were indications that some Washington officials at least thought it possible that the Diaz interests were seeking to undermine General Carranza among his various commanders.

Since no new revolution could be started in territory where American troops were operating, it is regarded as possible that recent events were the result in part at least of a deliberate effort to create conditions that would compel their withdrawal without irritating the United States to a point where intervention and military occupation of Northern Mexico might result.

Carranza Would Let U. S. Use Railroads to Get Out

By the Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, April 21.—It was stated unofficially in Juarez that General Carranza would in all probability place the Mexican railroads at the disposal of General Pershing if the expeditionary force was withdrawn.

General Gaviro, the Juarez commander, while declining to make a definite statement, expressed his belief that the use of the railroads for the withdrawal of the American troops would not be regarded unfavorably by the Carranza government.

"The decision on such a step," he said, "rests solely with General Carranza and his advisers and it would not be proper for me to express my views. However, I feel sure our government is willing to do everything in its power to maintain the friendship between Mexico and the United States

LOVE BANDIT USES ONE OF TRAIN CREW TO HELP HIM HOLD UP

By the Associated Press. Rawlins, Wyo., April 21.—Union Pacific passenger train No. 21 was held up by a bandit west of Hanna, Wyo., early tonight. After compelling a member of the train crew to take up a collection from the passengers in the observation car the bandit compelled the brakeman to receive the valuables of the passengers in one of two sleepers. As the train approached Edison, Wyo., the bandit dropped off and ran toward the hills.

The bandit, who is believed by railroad officials to be the man who recently committed two similar hold-ups in this section, is thought to have boarded the train at Greeley, Colo. After engaging a brakeman in conversation the bandit drew two guns. The passengers of the observation car were forced to drop their valuables into a hat held by the guard who then was compelled to accompany the bandit through the first sleeper, where, however, none of the passengers were molested. As the bandit leaped from the rapidly running train he rolled down the embankment, regained his feet and disappeared into the hilly country. A special train with a sheriff's posse left immediately to take up the chase from Edison.

Forty-three passengers in all were compelled to yield their money and valuables. One shot which went wild was directed at James Sherlock, conductor, when the latter hesitated a moment when the bandit shouted "All hands up!"

No Human Being in Sight at Verdun

By the Associated Press. Paris, April 21, 6:01 p. m.—Gaston Deschamps, writing in the Temps, gives a vivid description of his visit to the Verdun front, from which he has just returned. The account follows:

"The vast battlefield was veiled by a sleety rain, but Verdun, Douaumont and Le Mort Homme were vaguely outlined in the distance. Verdun, wounded, but still upright, stood like a sentinel guarding the entrance of the valley above the blackened ruins of houses, while the towers of the cathedral rose like two outstretched arms in protest against the misery and desolation about them. The citadel still stands unscathed.

"Villages now are abandoned and become military positions where the former presence of civilians is impossible. The whole aspect of the panorama is one of intense melancholy. At intervals incendiary bombs burst among the ruins, throwing great clouds of black smoke and debris. From time to time fires were started by bombs and here and there village houses were seen blazing through the mists, but amid all this scene of fire and explosion no human being could be seen anywhere, as if he were hidden by monsters of steel which far away were working their terrible destruction. The absence of human activity added to the extreme sadness.

"One could see the ancient ruins of the old Roman camp in this vicinity where the Romans resisted the German invader. Even Rome, indeed, the main thoroughfare of Verdun, being an ancient Roman road."

Thirty Killed in Bordeaux Explosion

By the Associated Press. Bordeaux, April 22, 12:05 a. m.—Thirty persons are believed to have been killed in the explosion of the powder branch of a grenade factory here today. Already twenty-eight bodies have been taken out of the debris.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been established but the belief is that a spark from the electrical machinery set off powder while it was in the process of being mixed. A number of persons were injured.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE.

By the Associated Press. Farmingdale, N. Y., April 21.—Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, conferred here today with Louis Enrich, who claims to have discovered an inexpensive powder which by the addition of water can be substituted for gasoline as fuel for motor cars. The outcome of the meeting was not disclosed.

NEW SUBMARINE HAS BEEN DELIVERED

By the Associated Press. Boston, April 21.—The submarine L-3, one of the largest submarines in the United States navy, was formally delivered to the government by her builders, the Fore River shipbuilding corporation, at the Charlestown navy yard today and immediately placed in commission. The seven vessels of this class, each with a cruising radius of 5,500 miles, will be in service by July 1, the builders stated.

and will take any step which is compatible with the dignity of the Mexican nation. To have given the railroads to the American troops entering Mexico would have been a step which undoubtedly would have been deeply resented by the Mexican people but to permit them to use the railroad to leave Mexico would be a very different matter. Mexico has a war mired for President Wilson and believes he is a true friend of our republic."

MONTANA LOOKS DEMOCRATIC.

Cummins Leading G. O. P. But Many Write in Teddy's Name.

By the Associated Press. Helena, Mont., April 21.—Scattered returns received early tonight from today's presidential preference primary showed that President Wilson polled more votes than either of his republican opponents together.

Colonel Roosevelt's name was written on the ballot by about one-fourth of the republican voters. Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa polled three to one over Colonel Roosevelt in twelve precincts. The other republican candidate, Edward Randolph Woods of New Jersey, received but a few votes.

This was Montana's first presidential preference primary and the first time that women voted.

OPPOSED TO WOMAN'S PARTY.

Los Angeles Clubs Will Not Officially Receive Suff. Delegation.

By the Associated Press. Los Angeles, Cal., April 21.—No women's clubs of Los Angeles or this vicinity will receive officially the party of women from California club women representing the congressional union for woman suffrage, according to club women here today. The Friday Morning Club here has adopted resolutions expressing the sentiment of the club as being "unilaterally opposed to a woman's party."

Mrs. Clara Snell Wolfe of Austin, Texas, who arrived here ten days ago to "assist" in making whatever plans were contemplated by California club women for the reception of the suffragists said the opposition of clubs here was simply "the refusal of conservatives to recognize officially the militant party."

Red Cross Unable to Ship Supplies to Germany

By the Associated Press. Washington, April 21.—American Red Cross headquarters announced tonight that because of inability to secure permits from the entente allies for shipment of supplies of any kind to the central powers, it had become necessary to request all Red Cross chapters throughout the world to refrain from sending such supplies to the Brooklyn terminal warehouse for shipment.

Railway Managers Meet in New York

By the Associated Press. New York, April 21.—Presidents or other executive officers of the railroads in all three territories affected by the demands of the four brotherhoods of railway employees for higher wages and an eight hour day, met here today to make preliminary arrangements for the coming negotiations with the executives of the brotherhoods for a settlement of the demands.

A committee consisting of the secretaries of the three groups of railway managers—John G. Walber of the eastern roads; J. J. Higgins of the western, and C. B. Neill of the southern—was appointed to meet the representatives of the affiliated organizations for a time and place for carrying on negotiations. It was thought likely that either New York or Chicago would suit the wishes of both sides.

The demand of the employees was presented to the railroads individually on April 1, with the request that the roads join in settling the questions at issue collectively. They were given until April 29 to make a reply which is expected to be soon forthcoming.

Prussian Finances in Bad Shape

Amsterdam, April 21.—Via London.—The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin publishes an interview with Dr. Von Lentze, Prussian finance minister, in which he forecasts great financial difficulties not only for the German empire, but for the individual states of the empire. He explained that the situation was very serious for the empire to levy direct taxes upon the states, notwithstanding the fact that the German constitution does not provide for such measures. The prolongation of the war, Dr. Von Lentze contends, compels recognition of hard facts.

RUSH RADIO NAVAL STATION.

Government Working Hard on Point Isabel (Texas) Plant.

By the Associated Press. Brownsville, April 21.—The United States navy is working hard to connect the Panama canal zone and American warships at Mexican ports with the wireless station at Arlington. Steel for the plant, as understood, already has been shipped from eastern mills.

The Point Isabel station, it is said here, will form an important link in naval communication between the canal zone and the United States.

VON DER GOLTZ DIES OF SPOTTED FEVER

By the Associated Press.

Amsterdam, via London, April 22, 3:25 a. m.—Baron Kolmar von Der Goltz, commander-in-chief of the first Turkish army, died Wednesday of spotted fever at the headquarters of his Turkish army, according to an official announcement received here from Berlin. He had been ill ten days.

Field Marshal von Der Goltz was regarded as one of Germany's greatest strategists. He was 72 years old. He had seen extensive military service, having fought in the Austrian campaign and been on the staff of Prince Frederick Charles in the Franco-Prussian war. In 1883 he was sent to re-construct the Turkish army and remained in Turkey for thirteen years.

In August, 1914, he was appointed military governor of the occupied part of Belgium, but in November of the same year he was relieved of this command and was appointed commander of a constantinople and acting minister of war. He was instrumental in forming the strong Turkish defense on the Gallipoli peninsula and frequently predicted that the allied fleet would not be able to force a passage of the Dardanelles. He received his command as chief of the first Turkish army in April of last year when he succeeded to the command of the Turkish stronghold with 50,000 troops.

Recent dispatches reported Field Marshal von Der Goltz engaged in the operations in Asiatic Turkey. Before the fall of Erzerum he was said to be bottled up by the Turkish stronghold with 50,000 troops.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ON VERDUN FRONT

By the Associated Press. On all the fronts around Verdun the Germans are heavily bombarding the French positions, especially those occupied by the French in their last attack around Le Mort Homme, northwest of the fortress and in the sector from the eastern bank of the Meuse to Fort Vaux. No infantry engagements have taken place around Verdun, although Paris records the occupation of a portion of a crater made by a German mine in the Argonne forest.

The Teutons in East Galicia near Popovakora went on the offensive against the Russians, but Petrograd asserts that their efforts were without result. The bombardment by the Germans of the Russians holding the Beskull bridgehead is still in progress. Further south of this point, west of Otyka and north of Mourivatka, the Germans essayed an attempt against Russian trenches, but were repulsed.

On the Austro-Italian front there have been the usual artillery duels and at various points small infantry engagements. At no point, however, has any important change in position taken place.

Petrograd reports that the Russian Caucasus army continued on the offensive against the Turks in the Black sea district of Asia Minor. Constantinople in acknowledging the occupation of Trebizond by the Russians says to town already had been evacuated in anticipation of the capture, the Turkish troops withdrawing in accordance with instructions to a sector where they will have a new task to fulfill.

Another defeat of the British in the Tigris region near Fehle is recorded by Constantinople. The British are declared to have been forced to abandon with heavy losses advanced positions they had occupied and compelled to retreat westward.

All operations are at a halt, awaiting the outcome of the conference at San Antonio between Generals Hugh L. Scott and Frederick Funston.

Disposing of Sisal Crop Taken Up

By the Associated Press.

Washington, April 21.—The federal trade commission today began its task of supervising the marketing of what is left of this year's Yucatan sisal crop by telegraphing to all the binder twine manufacturers in the United States for an estimate of their requirements for the 1916 season. About 125,000 bales are to be distributed.

The trade commission was directed by the senate to oversee distribution of the sisal crop. ## JAPAN MAKES KICK ON PROVISIONS IN IMMIGRATION BILL

By the Associated Press.

Washington, April 21.—Japan has renewed her objection to provisions in the pending immigration bill which are construed as virtually enacting into law the celebrated Root-Takahira treaty for the restriction of immigration to the United States and as including Japanese with Hindus in an excluded class.

The administration, it was said today, fears no difficulty in arranging the terms of the bill so as to avoid wounding Japanese feeling and to that end President Wilson soon will confer with house and senate leaders.

Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, who already has left two memoranda with the state department on the subject, conferred today with President Wilson by appointment which was made ten days ago. The administration, while realizing the extent of Asiatic exclusion sentiment in the Pacific coast states, is described as fully sensible of the disadvantage of assisting the long standing controversy with Japan and is confident the situation can be smoothed out satisfactorily to all interests.

Japan's revival of the question at this time attracted much interest in the capital, but it was pointed out that her representations could scarcely be delayed, if it were desired to do so, because the bill already has passed the house and has been reported to the senate for passage.

Although the senate immigration committee made some changes in its phrasing, the terms of the exclusion section still are offensive to the Japanese.

Russians Proving Popular in France

By the Associated Press.

Marseilles, France, April 21.—The arrival of the transports which brought the Russian troops sent to join the entente forces on the western front had been expected since Tuesday, but a heavy storm in the Mediterranean delayed their reaching here until today.

Every precaution for their protection had been taken owing to reports that hostile submarines were operating in the Mediterranean, but the voyage was concluded without untoward incident. The Russians continue to be the center of enthusiastic demonstrations from crowds in the approaches to Camp Mirabeau, where the newly arrived force is quartered. The Russians show no ill effects of their long journey.

Officers of the Russian force are the recipients of rounds of receptions and of congratulatory telegrams from many allied quarters. The authorities decline to permit mention of the number of men who arrived, or of the route the transports followed.

One of the superior officers of the Russian force received the Associated Press correspondent in his tent at Camp Mirabeau. The officer expressed satisfaction over the opportunity that has been given the Russian troops to join hands with their French brothers.

"The real purpose of this sending Russian troops to France," said the officer, "is to demonstrate the profound sentiment of admiration and respect Russia has for her ally. Our soldiers, who have just disembarked, doubtless will fight side by side with the French soldiers on French soil, and I will be proud to see the soldiers of both nations thus marching together."

Scott and Funston Meet and Confer

Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, and Major General Frederick Funston, in charge of operations along the frontier and in Mexico, personally discussed tonight the problems that have grown out of the punitive expedition's pursuit of Francisco Villa. General Scott arrived from Washington tonight and was met by General Funston, the two going immediately to General Funston's quarters at Fort San Houston.

General Scott professed not to know whether the American troops were to be recalled without having captured Villa. He was seen here by Secretary of War Baker to discuss the situation in detail with General Funston and to make to the secretary a personal report.

General Scott does not intend going to El Paso or Columbus.

GERMAN SENTIMENT AGAINST GIVING UP USE OF SUBMARINE

AMBASSADOR GERARD CABLES STATE DEPARTMENT NOTE HAS BEEN DELIVERED—REPLY EXPECTED IN WASHINGTON BY MIDDLE OF NEXT WEEK.

BERLIN PRESS KEEPS SILENT

Count von Bernstorff Is Understood to Have Recommended Modification of the Undersea Warfare So That Peace May Be Kept With United States. Situation Regarded as Grave.

By the Associated Press.

Berlin, April 21, Via London, April 22, 12:21 a. m.—Nothing has yet developed as a result of the receipt of the American note to Germany concerning Germany's submarine warfare. No expression of opinion is obtainable from the foreign office where absolute reticence is maintained.

Neither the note nor any reference to it has been published in Germany and there is no intimation as yet when the note will be made public. The celebrations of Holy Week and of the Easter tide therefore are proceeding undisturbed by any knowledge of foreign complications.

The ministers and other officials who were entitled to it, received a copy of the note this morning and were engaged during the day in studying the document.

As far as the Associated Press has been made acquainted with the sentiment in higher quarters it would be wrong to regard the situation as anything but extremely grave. The note probably will be answered some time next week after serious consideration has been given the American contention, but there is little hope that any answer can go to the length demanded by the Washington government despite the fact that the government desires to maintain good relations with the United States.

The sentiment is against any further weakening of Germany's submarine campaign to say nothing of abandoning it.

AMERICAN NOTE DELIVERED.

Reply Expected in Washington Middle of Next Week.

By the Associated Press. Washington, April 21.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin cabled the state department today that he had delivered the American note regarding the submarine warfare to the German foreign office at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Secretary Lansing said later he had not been advised just when a reply might be forthcoming. Other officials, however, indicated they expected it by the middle of next week.

Ambassador Gerard is known to have entered into a brief conversation with Foreign Minister von Jagow after delivering the communication. Although the contents of a second message received late today from Mr. Gerard were closely guarded, it is understood that the ambassador informed the German government that the United States desired immediate consideration would be given to the note.

SEVERAL MESSAGES RECEIVED FROM GERARD.

It became known tonight that several messages have been received from Ambassador Gerard during the past day or so. It was stated authoritatively, however, that they transmitted only expressions of editorial opinion from German newspapers. These editorial excerpts were closely examined by officials in an attempt to gain some understanding of the state of German public opinion.

Dispatches from the ambassador are also being momentarily given definite information regarding the views of German officials, the manner in which the note was received and forecasts of the action which will be taken by the German government in response to the demand of the United States that it declare and effect an abandonment of the present method of conducting submarine warfare.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, did not in Washington today. He left early this morning on a week-end trip. He is not expected to return to the capital until Monday unless dispatches of an important nature bearing on the submarine issue should be received before then.

The German embassy is sending many informative dispatches to Berlin. The majority so far have contained interpretations of public and official opinion and the ambassador's own views on the situation. It is known that Count von Bernstorff has strongly recommended to his government that it so modify submarine warfare as to bring it within what the United States regards to be the law.

SEVEN COUNTIES IN SCHOOL MEET FIGHT FOR DISTRICT HONOR

After winning out in the preliminaries with close decisions, the Waco high school debating team won in the finals last night in the high school auditorium over the Marlin team which was one of the principal numbers of the interscholastic meet which was held here yesterday. Drake Johnson and George Cantrell represented Waco and Willie Kemper and Trousdale Brown represented Marlin.

In the preliminaries yesterday morning Waco defeated the After team from Coryell county, which consisted of Bryan Hood and L. A. Warren; Marlin defeated the McGregor team, consisting of Ben Brown and Ralph Johnson, and Temple team consisting of Henry Strubberger and Jack Hickerson defeated Leland Alfred and Robert Long of Lampasas.

FATHERS AND SONS BANQUET IS TONIGHT

To cultivate the spirit of comradeship between the father and the son, so that both will feel more of a "pal" in games and enjoyment, and that the father might be a boy again and the son may feel some of the spirit of manliness that comes from beating dad at his own games, are the motivating plans behind the annual Father and Son banquet which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. this evening. Arrangements, which are now complete, have been in charge of Boys' Secretary A. J. Flowers and a committee. The program begins at 7 p. m.

In the first part of the evening the fathers will "show up" the sons in the gymnasium, playing volley ball and indoor baseball. The second part will be in the social game room, in which there will be contests between son and dad, indoor tennis, indoor croquet, dominoes, checkers and chess. The third part of the program will be the banquet.

The menu has been prepared by the women's committee.

Following the supper, Prof. B. B. Cobb, superintendent of public schools, will act as toastmaster. The following is the program in full:

Music, male quartet.

"Fathers, We Welcome You," Dudley Brightwell.

Response for fathers, Dr. K. H. Aynsworth.

"Fathers and Sons," Harvey Smith McCowan.

No father will be admitted unless accompanied by his son, and no son unless accompanied by father or a man to take his father's place. The aim of the gathering is to stimulate a closer relation between father and son and the boys' department.

The women's committee have sent out invitations to all the mothers of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. for a meeting to be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. They have received a response that indicates a large attendance of mothers at this, their annual rally.

H. S. McCowan will speak at this hour, his theme being "The Happiest Mother in the World."

Committees Will Soon Make Final Reports to Chamber Commerce

CHARTER COMMITTEE HAS AGREED ON BOUNDARIES

COUNTRY CLUB, HUACO CLUB AND NALLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT ARE EXCLUDED.

Committee Expects to Haxe Its Final Meeting Next Friday Evening.

After having been before the charter revision committee a number of times, an amendment to the city charter in regard to the present city limits as it was presented by the subcommittee, was adopted at the regular weekly meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. According to the amendment the Country club, Huaco club and the Nalley school district will be excluded from the city limits. At the present time both the clubs are out of the boundaries, but a portion of the Nalley school district is included.

In an amendment to the section of the city charter which deals with the bonding limits, the committee placed the total bonding limit at 12 per cent. The amendment calls for 4 per cent on revenue producing public utilities, 7 per cent for general purposes and 1 per cent for sewage disposal plant. The amendment also provides that bonds may be redeemed at the pleasure of the city at any time after ten years of their issuance.

R. H. Rogers, Dr. I. L. McGlasson and George Walker were appointed as a committee to investigate and bring before the committee an amendment to the charter which would give the city the right to dispose of the city's property.

There remains very little business for the attention of the committee and the secretary was instructed to notify the city commission that the work was nearly completed. Unless instructions are received from the commission for the committee to investigate other sections of the charter the committee will probably hold their final meeting next Friday night.

Dr. McGlasson extended an invitation to the members of the committee to attend the general meeting of the Waco Welfare league at the city hall next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

New Home Committee.

G. H. Luedde, president of the Deutscher Central Verein, will appoint a committee within the next week to investigate the advisability of erecting a new club house. Recently the present club house was repainted and repapered.

Mr. Devereux cast himself for the part of Tony Lumpkin, the presumably stupid son of Mrs. Hardcastle by first marriage a role replete in comedy. As step-son of fate, he was the big cog that turned the smaller ones, although Mr. Goldsmith does have him nearly break up the secondary love match by making him too illiterate to read. Mr. Devereux was "Tony Lumpkin" while he was on the stage and nothing else, with an accomplishment that was well reflected throughout the entire cast.—Springfield Union, July 2, 1915.—Adv.

In their several class rooms, the children of the Jean Sherwood school were told the story of San Jacinto and its brave heroes. Later a general assembly on the grounds was held for a flag raising. So the Lone Star waved over Jean Sherwood school during the San Jacinto vacation. The children sang their patriotic songs, first "Texas" and then "America." Their flag was saluted with ceremony.

MR. AND MRS. A. P. HICKSON

HAVE EVENING GUESTS

First naming members of the Tres Jolie, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hickson added a few friends on Friday evening sufficient to form a game of progressive rook. As reminder of the Easter season, the mirror mat on dining table reflected a pretty blooming Easter Lily. Ferns and our own Texas bluebonnet were also seen about the room. The Easter symbol appeared in the later supper. Within the game were the Misses Delilah Reed and Eschod Taylor with the Messrs. and Mesdames A. J. Hall, J. C. McElhannon, Henry Trantham, J. M. Wright and W. H. Pool, with W. P. Lewis and Rudolf Hoffmann.

MISS RUTH BLAIR HONOREE

WITH MRS. O. H. CROSS

The red, red rose of true love made effective room decoration for the bridge game with which Mrs. O. H. Cross complimented Miss Ruth Blair, bride of next Tuesday. To the roses in their own foliage the streamer of marriage was added. The tiny bride, Cupid dressed, wore on the occasion a bluebonnet. The game found progressions among four tables. This closed with award of three favors to Mrs. Donald Hodges of Houston, Miss Virginia Lazenby and Miss Blair. As the luncheon appeared, the honoree's tray was found heaped with packages. Opened all manner of novelty was disclosed for the bride's chest. The guests who participated in this courtesy to Miss Blair were the Mesdames Hodges and A. E. Moore, with the Misses Ethel Foster, Ruth Damron, Fay Clinton, Beuna Clinton, Virginia Lazenby, Mildred Smith, Emma Farrell, Mary Farrell, Clarabel Knight, Eleanor Blair, Dorothy Finley, Norma Bonner and Marian Duncan.

MRS. NORMAN CHURCH

FOR MRS. H. S. PALMER

In an revoir courtesy to Mrs. Herbert Palmer of Philadelphia whose departure occurred on Friday, Mrs. Norman Church invited a dozen and more friends to enjoy an afternoon with Mrs. Palmer. The entertainment took quite the pleasing turn, since Mrs. Church bespoke readings, original and otherwise, on the subject of Texas, from several. In this way the visitor of but the few days received much by way of history and romance of the Lone Star State. These contributors were the Mesdames Susan Thornton Price, M. B. Davis, T. Jefferson Smith, Mary Manton and J. M. Hale. Some of the home talent work, that of the Legend of Lovers' Leap by Miss Decca Lamar West, the gift of a copy of Mrs. Price's poems, also some of Mrs. Lesing's verses, included. In return Mrs. Palmer talked very informally of the work of the Camp Fire Girls, which is much farther advanced than it is in Texas. Two little neighbor girls, Elizabeth Watson and Aline Durham, passed the luncheon plate. Mrs. F. L. Christman was hostess to Mrs. Palmer during her short visit.

HENRY DOWNS CHAPTER

WITH MRS. LLOYD TUTTLE

Quite an interesting session of the Henry Downs chapter came with Mrs. Lloyd Tuttle, who offered the 5 o'clock cup of tea as close of the more formal features. The sister, Mrs. E. D. McCaa of Houston, also a D. A. R., was at the tea. In the absence of Mrs. Thomas McCullough, Mrs. Quintman Finley presided. Mrs. McCullough's resignation, also that of Mrs. M. C. H. Park, as regent and vice regent, gave election. Mrs. Finley was promoted, so to speak, to the regency, while the Mesdames William Neale and William Morrow were made vice regents. The plan for organizing the Welfare league was unanimously endorsed. The roll call brought forth men who have made this city. Review of Coke and Ross, of Dr. S. A. King and Dr. B. H. Carroll, of later day, the late lamented J. C. Lattimore, and Dr. S. P. Brooks, led into the "live wire" Young Men's Business League, presently makers of Waco. Mrs. J. W. Murphy was a neighbor guest. Placards are now at the Old Spring warning trespassers. Mrs. W. C. Harmon and Miss Decca Lamar West were appointed a committee to see how far nation and state protects the United States and the Texas flags.

MISS GRACE DYER HONORED

BY P. G. TAYLOR HOUSEHOLD

For two hours during Thursday afternoon, Miss Grace Dyer as bride of the coming week, was with Mrs. P. G. Taylor and Miss Lilian Taylor. Invited to call for this pleasure in Miss Dyer's girlhood days, were a hundred of her friends, maids and matrons. The hostesses formed a pretty and a pleasing house party, and invited for parlor song, Mrs. G. J. Rousseau. In this season of rose running, riot and the freshest of foliage, the rooms were an indoor garden. Pink predominated, and the most perfect of the pink buds were grouped in a graceful basket to make the beauty spot of the refreshment room. Several of the guests who will attend Miss Dyer having arrived from out of town, theirs was the privilege of introduction. Fresh Easter frocks were no inconspicuous detail in the pretty scene. The house party were, the Misses Emma Chapman of Missouri, Clara Primm, Monette Colgin, Ida McGlasson of Plainview, Hazel Spencer, Alta Harrison, Mary Allison, Kate Edmond with the Mesdames Edgar Kayser of El Paso, Wanda Burdett of Temple, R. L. Cartwright, B. B. Bray, Scott Powell, Fred Peck, I. L. McGlasson. Left in the card basket by callers were the names of the Misses Frances Hays, Josephine Foscoe, Laurine Gay, Elizabeth Speight, Allevine Quickall, Una Robinson, Edith Harder, Winnie Spruce with the Mesdames W. B. Hays, J. R. Collier, E. R. Nash, Joseph Mitchell, T. F. Bryan, Kyle Vick, John D. Mayfield, C. N. Smith, John Docker, W. M. Carroll of Beau-

THAT THEY MAY KNOW.

"God moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform;
He plants His footsteps on the sea,
And rides upon the storm."

(Ezekiel 30:10-11-12-19)

Thus saith the Lord God: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon. He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with slain. And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked, and I will make the land waste and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers. Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt—And they shall know that I am the Lord.

THE MAN IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

Freedom of the sea was the keynote of the president's address to congress. The News said that in this he adheres faithfully to the traditions of this country. The Fort Worth Record does not controvert the premise, but launches an indictment of its own against England. It says:

Editor Senter, it is evident, has overlooked the precedents established by the patriotic forefathers of the men who carved out this republic with their swords.

He has forgotten the glorious traditions handed down from the infantile years of this land of the free by men who made the American flag respected wherever it waved on the high seas and demonstrated that even the divine right of kings did not carry with it the right to control the water ways of the world and seize the commerce of the world from those who dared to battle for the rights of men and the freedom of trade.

Why pick Germany? Why threaten war? Has Germany been the only offender? Germany and Great Britain are commercial rivals. Germany and Great Britain are the great manufacturing nations of Europe. If Germany is an outlaw among the nations then what of Great Britain which has been ruthless in its destruction of American commerce and as brazen as any pirate of old of the Spanish Main in seizing and searching American ships and the ships of other neutrals on the high seas and confiscating their cargoes as well as holding their passengers as prisoners of war?

This is a neutral nation. This is the great republic of the western hemisphere. America should have entangling alliances with none. America should not concern herself with the trade wars of European monarchs and money kings.

The News does not forget. It holds no brief for England, or France, or Russia, or Germany. Its only concern is for the Republic of the United States, and it believes that in our foreign relations this country should deal with all with an even hand. That was the tenor of Washington's last appeal. That has been the policy of Woodrow Wilson.

Under extraordinary stress, which has sought to pull him hither and thither, which on one hand would have made this country a tool of the allies and on the other an ally of the central powers, the president has stood unmoved, unyielding, a precept and an example of absolute neutrality.

Since this Republic was founded, no president has ever contended against as many adverse influences, within and without, as have assailed Woodrow Wilson. In the White House he stands, as Jackson stood on the field of battle, a stone wall against every influence exerted for any end except the honor and the welfare of his own country.

To the kind personal allusion made by the Record, the editor of the News may fitly reply that he did not in 1912 support Wilson for the democratic nomination, because he thought him to be an untried man. Now that he has been tried, The News

believes that history will accord him a place in its eternal gallery by the side of Washington, and Jefferson, and Lincoln, here, and Gladstone and Parnell, and those in every land who built for the good of all humanity.

The president has called England to book for her delinquencies, and she will be required to make amends.

But let it not be forgotten that England has destroyed no neutral's life and no neutral property. She has seized neutral property upon the claim that it was being smuggled through neutral territory into Germany, in violation of her blockade. The right to establish a blockade is one of the most ancient of the laws of war. It was the most efficient weapon employed by the Union during our own civil struggle. When The Record assails the blockade, it goes as wide of the mark as Mr. Bryan does when he seeks to refer the issues between the United States and Germany to a chautauqua debating society.

If England is right about her contentions, and if the packing houses at Fort Worth and other centers, were actually smuggling their goods through Switzerland and Denmark and Holland into Germany, then the English government had a right to seize such goods.

If we were at war with Mexico, and had declared a blockade, no English or French pork packer would be permitted to slip his wares through Central America into Mexico, as the Record well knows.

The packers will not lose the value of their stuff. England will pay them for it. They might as well understand now, however, as later on, that they have no special rights on the sea, however much they may be able to manipulate prices at home against both the producer and the consumer.

If England undertakes to appropriate to herself, without compensation, the property of any American, she is going to have a fight on her hands if Woodrow Wilson continues in the presidency. He is playing no favorites. That is why he has said the last word to Germany. It is Germany and her sympathizers who seek to destroy the neutrality of this country, and to reduce it, through fear of German arms, into a trembling agent of the Kaiser to aid in the destruction of the right of the world to travel upon the sea, without fear of trespass from any source.

When this Republic abandons its hereditary position upon that subject, it will justly forfeit its claim to the respect of the world.

Mr. Culberson asks for a place on the senatorial primary ballot, and unless Governor Colquitt or Mr. Henry can show a better reason than any they have presented to date, Chairman Waples will be required to put it there.

Those who fancy that all Germans in this country are in sympathy with the Kaiser's government, forget that the ancestors of most of them came to this country to escape the tyranny of their government. The Germanic mind is a natural foe of despotism in every realm, whether social, religious or political.

WHAT ABOUT DENATURED ALCOHOL, MR. HOUSTON?

A score of years ago the interior department at Washington gave much attention to the experiments looking to the substitution of denatured alcohol for gasoline. It was reported that experiments were made under its auspices, which demonstrated that denatured alcohol could be successfully used in every place where gasoline is now used. Regulations were adopted to promote the change. In Texas, authority was given by statute for the incorporation of companies to manufacture denatured alcohol.

Suddenly this movement lapsed into silence. Why?

Denatured alcohol should not be confused with old-fashioned alcohol. The "drunk" is taken out of it, and it serves only an industrial purpose. It may be derived from beets, potatoes, or any product of the soil which contains saccharine matter.

If denatured alcohol could be made to do the work of gasoline, every farm in Texas would be doubled in value, and the oil trust would relax its clutch upon the business machinery of the country.

The secretary of the interior, Mr. Houston, is thoroughly in sympathy with the interests of agriculture. He has lived in Texas, and well understands that if its fertile soils could be devoted to the production of motive power, several big problems would be solved at once.

This subject is worth reinvestigation, Mr. Houston. Was the promise given by denatured alcohol when it was first investigated by your department, a thing substantial or a delusion? If substantial, why this long silence?

The country would like to hear from the secretary of the interior about it.

Our Chinese friends tried to start a revolution but they couldn't get the floor. It takes something more animated than a Chinaman to command the attention of the world when it is as busy as it is just now.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

The Silver Gleam.

By IZOLA FORRESTER.

(Copyright, 1916, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"They say there's no doubt of the operation's success," Stanley was saying happily. "We're hoping he'll be able to play for the Easter service, and see the beauty of it all as well, please God."

Esther stood just back of the choir stalls, on her way into the little room where the altar hangings were kept. She could not but pause as she caught the words, and Mrs. Sturges' warm, motherly voice answering back:

"There isn't one heart that will not rejoice with him. In the three years since he came here he has endeared himself so to all of us that his joy is our joy. Dear he knows."

"He is hoping, as we are," said Stanley. "Of course, until the bandages are removed he can't be certain. I wish you and Miss Sturges could come over and see him. He asks every day for you both."

"Well, we will, of course, this afternoon. I had no idea he could be seen yet."

Esther slipped away into the vestry and laid away the hangings. There was a small passageway that led out into the old-fashioned garden between the church and the rectory, and she slipped out that way instead of waiting for her mother and her friends.

The air was sweet with spring odors. There had been a light, quick rain, and everything seemed to exude fragrance. How often she had walked up and down the flagged walks with Roy, talking of the things they two loved best, helping him to bear his blindness.

loved beauty as he did, the Greek perfection of line, the rare Saxon beauty of coloring.

Roy himself was like a picture she had seen once of a young Olympian racer, tall and blonde, with the Greek profile and only the closed, fluttering eyelids to tell of what he lacked. But she was little and brown, brown hair and eyes, skin that always freckled with the first spring winds and features that were Gallic in their irregular, provocative contour. Surely, if sight ever came to him he never would love her as he had done before.

She passed some boys bearing palms into the church for the Easter service. There would be the full choral service, with the mixed choir, and she was to sing in the offertory anthem.

"The shades look warm days," she said, "silver gleam that lights his way. Shine fair and clear where Mary seeks her son Lord on Easter Day."

She made an excuse that afternoon while her mother went to call on Roy. When she heard that they had taken the bandages off his eyes and that he could see, she prayed silently that she might be thankful with all her heart for him and think nothing of herself.

As the choir came up the chancel steps on Easter Day, the girls last of all in their Oxford caps and snowy collars, Roy lifted his head to watch them. He was not strong enough yet to play the full service, but he was to play the offertory anthem, and he wondered which of the singers was Esther. One was tall and fair as one of the lilies themselves, and one was dark haired, with blue eyes uplifted to the angel in the stained glass window above the altar. Which one, he asked himself, which of them all was Esther, who loved him so?

Not until there came the hush before the offertory did he see her. As he took his place at the grand old organ, she rose with the others, but when she began her solo, he saw her face, not turned toward him, but lifted as she sang the beautiful words.

doors, then she stepped into the garden and found him waiting for her there.

"I wanted to see you," he said simply, and stood looking down at her. "Weren't you glad for me?"

She nodded her head, afraid to speak, the color rising in her face under his scrutiny. And with the intuitive gift that had come to him in his days of blindness, he seemed to appreciate at once what her fear had been.

"Why did you dread my seeing you?"

"Because I knew you loved all things beautiful, and—" she laughed and shook her head—"Roy, I'm not even pretty."

"You are all I ever wanted," he exclaimed. "Don't you know what it all meant to me, the understanding and sympathy and you—the girl I came to know so well? When I heard you sing this morning and saw your dear face for the first time I could hardly play the anthem. If I had only loved you through the human vision, dear, would that have been our silver gleam that made all life illumined through the past months?"

"They had reached the gate. Some children waited there for Esther, to beg for some of the Easter flowers for a sick little sister. She promised them, and they walked down the street with the blue sea at the far end."

"Doesn't the sunlight hurt at all?" she asked at last. "I hardly dare to ask you all I want to know."

"Nothing hurts," he told her, "except that you're not the same. I never dared to ask you to be my wife, Esther, when I might only have been a burden."

"Don't," she begged.

"But now I may. It was you who taught me hope all through the months of darkness. Why, I never even dared to take the big chance on the operation until you came, dear. It was one in fifty, they told me, for success. And I did it more for you than myself. Do you know what I've been calling you to myself as I lay in the hospital waiting for them to lift the bandages? My silver gleam in life's darkness."

He lifted her hand half unconsciously and pressed it against his face, as he had done often in the past, and the little action stirred her more than his words.

"You know, Roy, I was afraid you wouldn't need me now," she said. "I need you always," he declared fervently.

THAT THEY MAY KNOW.

"God moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform;
He plants His footsteps on the sea,
And rides upon the storm."

(Ezekiel 30:10-11-12-13)

Thus saith the Lord God: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon. He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and kill the land with the slain. And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked; and I will make the land waste and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers. Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt—And they shall know that I am the Lord.

THE MAN IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

Freedom of the sea was the keynote of the president's address to congress. The News said that in this he adheres faithfully to the traditions of this country. The Fort Worth Record does not controvert the premise, but launches an indictment of its own against England. It says:

Editor Senter, It is evident, has overlooked the precedents established by the patriotic forefathers of the men who carved out this republic with their swords. He has forgotten the glorious traditions handed down from the infantile years of this land of the free by men who made the American flag respected wherever it waved on the high seas and demonstrated that even the divine right of kings did not carry with it the right to control the water ways of the world and seize the commerce of the world from those who dared to battle for the rights of men and the freedom of trade.

Why pick Germany? Why threaten war? Has Germany been the only offender? Germany and Great Britain are commercial rivals. Germany and Great Britain are the great manufacturing nations of Europe. If Germany is an outlaw among the nations then what of Great Britain which has been ruthless in its destruction of American commerce and as brazen as any pirate of old of the Spanish Main in seizing and searching American ships and the ships of other neutrals on the high seas and confiscating their cargoes as well as holding their passengers as prisoners of war? This is a neutral nation. This is the great republic of the western hemisphere. America should have entangling alliances with none. America should not concern herself with the trade wars of European monarchs and money kings.

The News does not forget. It holds no brief for England, or France, or Russia, or Germany. Its only concern is for the Republic of the United States, and it believes that in our foreign relations this country should deal with all with an even hand. That was the tenor of Washington's last appeal. That has been the policy of Woodrow Wilson.

Under extraordinary stress, which has sought to pull him hither and thither, which on one hand would have made this country a tool of the allies and on the other an ally of the central powers, the president has stood unmoved, unyielding, a precept and an example of absolute neutrality.

Since this Republic was founded, no president has ever contended against as many adverse influences, within and without, as have assailed Woodrow Wilson. In the White House he stands, as Jackson stood on the field of battle, a stone wall against every influence exerted for any end except the honor and the welfare of his own country.

To the kind personal allusion made by the Record, the editor of the News may fitly reply that he did not in 1912 support Wilson for the democratic nomination, because he thought him to be an untied man. Now that he has been tried, The News

believes that history will accord him a place in its eternal gallery by the side of Washington, and Jefferson, and Lincoln, here, and Gladstone and Parnell, and those in every land who built for the good of all humanity.

The president has called England to book for her delinquencies, and she will be required to make amends.

But let it not be forgotten that England has destroyed no neutral's life and no neutral property. She has seized neutral property upon the claim that it was being smuggled through neutral territory into Germany, in violation of her blockade. The right to establish a blockade is one of the most ancient of the laws of war. It was the most efficient weapon employed by the Union during our own civil struggle. When The Record assails the blockade, it goes as wide of the mark as Mr. Bryan does when he seeks to refer the issues between the United States and Germany to a chautauqua debating society.

If England is right about her contentions, and if the packing houses at Fort Worth and other centers, were actually smuggling their goods through Switzerland and Denmark and Holland into Germany, then the English government had a right to seize such goods.

If we were at war with Mexico, and had declared a blockade, no English or French pork packer would be permitted to slip his wares through Central America into Mexico, as the Record well knows.

The packers will not lose the value of their stuff. England will pay them for it. They might as well understand now, however, as later on, that they have no special rights on the sea, however much they may be able to manipulate prices at home against both the producer and the consumer.

If England undertakes to appropriate to herself, without compensation, the property of any American, she is going to have a fight on her hands if Woodrow Wilson continues in the presidency. He is playing no favorites. That is why he has said the last word to Germany. It is Germany and her sympathizers who seek to destroy the neutrality of this country, and to reduce it, through fear of German arms, into a trembling agent of the Kaiser to aid in the destruction of the right of the world to travel upon the sea, without fear of trespass from any source.

When this Republic abandons its hereditary position upon that subject, it will justly forfeit its claim to the respect of the world.

Mr. Culberson asked for a place on the senatorial primary ballot, and unless Governor Colquitt or Mr. Henry can show a better reason than any they have presented to date, Chairman Waples will be required to put it there.

Those who fancy that all Germans in this country are in sympathy with the Kaiser's government, forget that the ancestors of most of them came to this country to escape the tyranny of their government. The Germanic mind is a natural foe of despotism in every realm, whether social, religious or political.

WHAT ABOUT DENATURED ALCOHOL, MR. HOUSTON?

For gasoline. It was reported that experiments were made under its auspices, which demonstrated that denatured alcohol could be successfully used in every place where gasoline is now used. Regulations were adopted to promote the change. In Texas, authority was given by statute for the incorporation of companies to manufacture denatured alcohol.

Suddenly this movement lapsed into silence. Why?

Denatured alcohol should not be confused with old-fashioned alcohol. The "drunk" is taken out of it, and it serves only an industrial purpose. It may be derived from beets, potatoes, or any product of the soil which contains saccharine matter.

If denatured alcohol could be made to do the work of gasoline, every farm in Texas would be doubled in value, and the oil trust would relax its clutch upon the business machinery of the country.

The secretary of the interior, Mr. Houston, is thoroughly in sympathy with the interests of agriculture. He has lived in Texas, and well understands that if its fertile soils could be devoted to the production of motive power, several big problems would be solved at once.

This subject is worth reinvestigation, Mr. Houston. Was the promise given by denatured alcohol when it was first investigated by your department, a thing substantial or a delusion? If substantial, why this long silence?

The country would like to hear from the secretary of the interior about it.

Our Chinese friends tried to start a revolution but they couldn't get the floor. It takes something more animated than a Chinaman to command the attention of the world when it is as busy as it is just now.

DAILY SHORT STORY.

The Silver Gleam.

By ISOLA FORRESTER.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"They say there's no doubt of the operation's success," Stanley was saying happily. "We're hoping he'll be able to play for the Easter service, and see the beauty of it all as well, please God."

Either stood just back of the choir stalls, on her way into the choir room where the altar hangings were kept. She could not but pause as she caught the words, and Mrs. Sturges' warm, motherly voice answering back:

"There isn't one heart that will not rejoice with him. In the three years since he came here he has endeared himself so to all of us that his joy is our joy. Does he know?"

"He is hoping, as we are," said Stanley. "Of course, until the bandages are removed he can't be certain. I wish you and Miss Sturges could come over and see him. He asks every day for you both."

"Well, we will, of course, this afternoon. I had no idea he could be seen yet."

Either slipped away into the vestry and laid away the hangings. There was a small passageway that led out into the old-fashioned garden between the church and the rectory, and she slipped out that way instead of waiting for her mother and her friends.

The air was sweet with spring odors. There had been a light quick rain, and everything seemed to exude fragrance. How often she had walked up and down the flagged walks with Roy, talking of all the things they two loved best, helping him to bear his blindness.

He had told her it was her voice and the touch of her hand that first made him care for her. These and her eager, sympathetic understanding had made them so companionable, and it was companionship he craved mostly. Their common love of music, too, was another strong factor. She sang contralto, and often in the old church their two voices mingled in sympathetic harmony.

But as he had grown more fervent in his love for her she had evaded him. Knowing his great love for beautiful things she believed that if ever his sight returned his love for her would die. Not that she was homely, but she was not beautiful, and she, too, flowers until all was quiet out of loved beauty as he did, the Greek perfection of line, the rare Saxon beauty of coloring.

Roy himself was like a picture she had seen once of a young Olympian racer, tall and blonde, with the Greek profile and only the closed, fluttering eyelids to tell of what he lacked. But she was little and brown, brown hair and eyes, skin that always freckled with the first spring winds and feathery to tell of what he lacked. But if sight ever came to him he never would love her as he had done before.

She passed some boys bearing palms into the church for the Easter service. There would be the full choral service, with the mixed choir, and she was to sing in the offertory anthem "The shadows break in western dawn. Oh, give glory that lights His way. Shine fair and clear where Mary waits Her risen Lord on Easter Day."

She made an excuse that afternoon while her mother went to call on Roy. When she heard that they had taken the bandages off his eyes and that he could see, she prayed silently that she might be thankful with all her heart for him and think nothing of herself.

As the choir came up the chancel steps on Easter Day, the girls last of all in their Oxford caps and snowy collars, Roy lifted his head to watch them. He was not strong enough yet to play the full service, but he was to play the offertory anthem, and he wondered which of the singers was Esther. One was tall and fair as one of the lilies themselves, and one was dark haired, with blue eyes uplifted to the angel in the stained glass window above the altar. Which one he asked himself, which of them all was Esther.

She until there came the hush before the offertory did he see her. He took his place at the grand old organ, she rose with the others, but when she began her solo, he saw her face, not turned toward him, but lifted as she sang the beautiful words.

"Esther, you stay and see if any of the flowers need changing, dear, will you?" asked Mrs. Sturges after service.

She was glad of the excuse. Out in the garden, people crowded in the bright sunlight. She dreaded meeting Roy there before them all, having to bear his gaze when he first looked on her.

She lingered among the palms and flowers until all was quiet out of doors, then she stepped into the garden and found him waiting for her. "I wanted to see you," he said simply, and stood looking down at her. "Were you glad for me?"

She nodded her head, afraid to speak, the color rising in her face under his scrutiny. And with the intuitive gift that had come to him in his days of blindness, he seemed to appreciate at once what her face had been.

"Why did you dread my seeing you?" "Because I knew you loved all things beautiful, and—" she laughed and shook her head—"Roy, I'm not even a prettiness."

"You are all I ever wanted," he exclaimed. "Don't you know what it all meant to me, the understanding and sympathy and you—the girl I came to know so well? When I heard you sing this morning and saw your dear face for the first time I could hardly play the anthem. If I had only loved you through the human vision, dear, would that have been our silver gleam that made all life illumined through the past months?"

They had reached the gate. Some children waited there for Esther, to beg for some of the Easter flowers for a sick little sister. She promised them, and they walked down the street with the blue sea at the far end.

"Doesn't the sunlight hurt at all?" she asked at last. "I hardly dare to ask you all I want to know."

"Nothing hurts," he told her, "except that you're not the same. I never dared to ask you to be my wife. Esther, when I might only have been a burden."

"Don't," she begged.

"But now I may. It was you who taught me hope all through the months of darkness. Why, never even cared to take the big chance on an operation until you came, dear. It was one in fifty, they told me, for success. And I did it more for you than myself. Do you know what I've been calling you to myself as I lay in the hospital waiting for them to lift the bandages? He lifted her hand half unconsciously and pressed it against his face, as he had done often in the past, and the little action stirred her more than his words.

"You know, Roy, I was afraid you wouldn't need me now," she said. "I need you always," he declared fervently.

Spain Stops Plan of Meeting to Make Protest

By the Associated Press.

Paris, April 21.—A dispatch to the Temps from Madrid says that a meeting which was to have been held to protest against the torpedoing of the Spanish steamship Vizo in the bay of Biscay has been forbidden by the Spanish government on the ground that prudence was essential under the present disturbed conditions. Leaders of the republican, radical and socialist parties made arrangements for the meeting. The Spanish government has received a number of telegrams of protest, to which it has replied that it is seeking unequally to obtain satisfaction from Germany for the loss of the Vizo.

The German embassy has issued an announcement to the effect that the Vizo was torpedoed because she was carrying contraband and that time was given for the crew to leave the vessel.

Illinois Democrats Strong for Wilson

By the Associated Press.

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—One feeble "no" on resolutions endorsing President Wilson and the administration headed by Governor Dunne was the only inharmonious word raised in the democratic state convention here today.

What fighting was done occurred behind closed doors in committee meetings and everything in the convention was cumulative evidence of the control of the democratic party in Illinois by Roger Sullivan, former democratic national committeeman.

Nominations and a platform were left to committees which were to make their recommendations to the convention when it meets here September 25 with a wider intelligence due to this results at the September primary.

Roger Sullivan was elected chairman of the Illinois delegates to the democratic national convention.

The convention cheered Congressman Williams when he said that, now American soldiers are in Mexico, he took the stand they should remain there until peace and order are restored.

FUR CAPES WILL BE WORN THIS SPRING

Fashion again rules that furs shall predominate as one of the extraordinary features of spring and summer wear. This fascinating little cape with its fur tie and balls is made of the softest mole skin lined with rose and grey striped silk. Many unusual styles in furs have been seen on Fifth Avenue since spring opened; but the most novel thing of all is that almost every garment has fur attachments of some kind.

LOS ANGELES NURSE DECLARES VILLA IN THAT CITY WED.

By the Associated Press.

Los Angeles, April 21.—Mrs. Rose Cohn, a nurse who performed Red Cross work in Mexico during 1912 and 1914, reported to the federal authorities here today that she was confident that she saw Francisco Villa, the Mexican bandit leader, on the street here last Wednesday afternoon. Officers are investigating the report made by Mrs. Cohn, but expressed the opinion that the nurse probably saw a man who resembled Villa.

Mrs. Cohn said she was standing on a corner near the business district when she saw the man believed to have been Villa enter an automobile with two Mexican women. They drove away toward the residence district before they could be pointed out to anyone by the nurse. "I don't know where they came from," Mrs. Cohn said. "They walked on the curb and seated themselves in a large black motor car, the driver of which was a Mexican. Before I had time to act they drove away. I am sure I was not mistaken."

No Anti-American Demonstrations

By the Associated Press.

San Antonio, Texas, April 21.—The following message was received tonight at the Mexican consulate from Minister Acuna of the interior at Mexico City:

"There was great surprise and indignation here in the foreign colony when news was received of widespread publication in American papers, asserting Carranza and his generals planned and already had carried out anti-American demonstrations. Nothing of the kind has taken place. Entire quiet prevails in every city in the republic with no anti-foreign expression of any kind. Several prominent business men of their own volition sent messages today contradicting statements referred to. The following is taken from a message sent to President Wilson by J. R. Ambrosio, a resident of Mexico for many years and widely known throughout the republic:

"Having heard certain papers are publishing statements made by a former correspondent in Mexico on arrival at Havana that anti-American demonstrations will be and have been instituted by Carranza authorities in Mexico, I beg to state most emphatically that, as an American citizen of this city, I have not even heard the slightest antagonistic remark on the streets of this city during my daily transit on same, much less have I seen or heard anything even resembling organized demonstrations. In this statement all Americans here will coincide and corroborate, I am certain. Carranza government will protect all real Americans to the full extent of its power."

"Other prominent Americans here have taken like action."

D. A. R. Hold Memorial.

Washington, April 21.—The twenty-fifth continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held a memorial meeting tonight for Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth of Massachusetts, one of the founders of the society; Mrs. Julius C. Burrows, of Michigan, late corresponding secretary-general and other members who have died in recent years.

Strike in Westinghouse Plant.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 21.—A serious strike which threatens to tie up the plant of the Westinghouse Electric and manufacturing company in East Pittsburgh was called today. Labor leaders claim that 6300 men and women have already quit work. The strikers asked for an eight-hour day, an increase in wages and reinstatement of dismissed employees. Many of the now out were employed in departments making war munitions.

Yellow Newspapers Decried.

Lawrence, Kan., April 21.—The "yellow" newspaper was decried by John M. Cooney of the University of Notre Dame in an address before the sixth annual meeting of the American association of journalism teachers here today. "Any paper is justified in being sensational, but never in being yellow," he declared. "The 'yellow' journal is much like a pirate and as such will be driven from the seas."

Spain Stops Plan of Meeting to Make Protest

By the Associated Press.
Paris, April 21.—A dispatch to the Temps from Madrid says that a meeting which was to have been held to protest against the torpedoing of the Spanish steamship Vigo in the bay of Biscay has been forbidden by the Spanish government on the ground that prudence was essential under the present disturbed conditions. Leaders of the republican, radical and socialist parties made arrangements for the meeting. The Spanish government has received a number of telegrams of protest, to which it has replied that it is seeking unceasingly to obtain satisfaction from Germany for the loss of the Vigo.

The German embassy has issued an announcement to the effect that the Vigo was torpedoed because she was carrying contraband and that time was given for the crew to leave the vessel.

Illinois Democrats Strong for Wilson

By the Associated Press.
Springfield, Ill., April 21.—One feeble "no" on resolutions endorsing President Wilson and the administration headed by Governor Dunne was the only inharmonious word raised in the democratic state convention here today.

What fighting was done occurred behind closed doors in committee meetings and everything in the convention was cumulative evidence of the control of the democratic party in Illinois by Roger Sullivan, former Democratic national committeeman.

Nominations and a platform were left to committees which were to make their recommendations to the convention when it meets here September 25 with a wider intelligence due to this results at the September primary.

Roger Sullivan was elected chairman of the Illinois delegates to the democratic national convention.

The convention cheered Congressman Williams when he said that, now American soldiers are in Mexico, he took the stand they should remain there until peace and order are restored.

LOS ANGELES NURSE DECLARES VILLA IN THAT CITY WED.

By the Associated Press.
Los Angeles, April 21.—Mrs. Rose Cohn, a nurse who performed Red Cross work in Mexico during 1913 and 1914, reported to the federal authorities here today that she was confident that she saw Francisco Villa, the Mexican bandit leader, on the street here last Wednesday afternoon. Officers are investigating the report made by Mrs. Cohn, but expressed the opinion that the nurse probably saw a man who resembled Villa.

Mrs. Cohn said she was standing on a corner near the business district when she saw the man believed to have been Villa enter an automobile with two Mexican women. They drove away toward the residence district before they could be pointed out to anyone by the nurse.

"I don't know where they came from," Mrs. Cohn said. "They walked to the curb and seated themselves in a large black motor car, the driver of which was Mexican. Before I had time to act they drove away. I am sure I was not mistaken."

No Anti-American Demonstrations

By the Associated Press.
San Antonio, Texas, April 21.—The following message was received tonight at the Mexican consulate from Minister Acuna of the interior at Mexico City:

"There was great surprise and indignation here in the foreign colony when news was received of widespread publication in American papers, asserting Carranza and his generals planned and already had carried out anti-American demonstrations. Nothing of the kind has taken place. Entire quiet prevails in every city in the republic with no anti-foreign expression of any kind.

Several prominent business men of their own volition sent messages today contradicting statements referred to. The following is taken from a message sent to President Wilson by J. B. Ambrosio, a resident of Mexico for many years and widely known throughout the republic:

"Having heard certain papers are publishing statements made by a former correspondent in Mexico on arrival at Havana that anti-American demonstrations will be and have been instituted by Carranza authorities in Mexico, I beg to state most emphatically that, as an American citizen of this city, I have not even heard the slightest antagonistic remark on the streets of this city during my daily transit on same, much less have I seen or heard anything even resembling organized demonstrations. In this statement all Americans here will coincide and corroborate. I am certain. Carranza government will protect all resident Americans to the full extent of its power."

New York, April 21.—Difficulty was experienced by the police today in framing a charge on which a magistrate would consent to hold Harry L. Newton, the former munitions worker, arrested yesterday, who is alleged to have agreed with detectives to blow up munitions plants in Dunkirk and Canada. After three complaints had been discarded by the magistrate, Newton finally was held on a charge of having conspired with Henry Stempf, a detective, to blow up the federal building in this city. The magistrate held Newton in $5,000 bail and Newton was held on a charge of bringing explosives from Canada to this city. His attorney said the only thing resembling an explosive that Newton had was an empty, defective shell he had bought in Canada and brought to Buffalo to present to his sweetheart.

Those who go out to hear Dr. Manley this morning will find a note of interest in the flowers. One of Shakespeare's famous scenes is known as the Temple Garden scene. It is where the red and the white roses are plucked and the great contention of the Wars of the Roses begins. These will be prominent. Again, when the ill-fated Ophelia appears before the Queen with her flowers, she gives "Rosemary for remembrance." When the Fairy King Oberon refers to the little western flower, "Before, milk white, now purple with love's wounds, which maidens call love in idleness," he has in mind our little plant, the "Johnny Jump Up." These will form the vase ornament for the speaker's stand. So, even the tiny blossom comes into this great Shakespeare Tercentenary.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS IN FINE CONDITION

CITY OFFICIALS MAKE ANNUAL INSPECTION OF ALL EIGHT STATIONS.

DEPARTMENT GIVES BANQUET

Mayor and Commissioners Compliment Chief and His Men—Annual Report Submitted.

Considering Waco's state of "preparedness" in the matter of firefighting and the chances for protecting the property of citizens from conflagrations, the city officials yesterday afternoon, according to annual custom, carefully inspected the different fire stations in the city, the apparatus and everything connected with the fire department of the city, and the inspection was followed by a splendid banquet at the Central Fire station.

The talks at the banquet, which was enjoyed shortly after 6 o'clock, were very complimentary to Fire Chief Ed Bauerle, his assistants and the men connected with the department in any capacity, and it was stated that the fire department had been found in excellent condition. This was the statement of Mayor John Dollins and Commissioners Ben C. Richards and J. F. Stamp, two of the commissioners, J. D. Harlow and W. H. Cockcroft, being out of the city on business, but they telegraphed to this same import and sent congratulations. The city commission as a whole pledged its hearty support to the fire department just as far as is consistent with good business policy.

FIRE DEPARTMENT FOUND IN GOOD SHAPE.

The inspection of the department yesterday afternoon was commenced about 1:30, but was not concluded for some time, as it was necessary to visit all eight of the fire stations and make a separate inspection at each, and everything everywhere was found to be in good shape and in the best condition, ready for service in repelling attacks of the fire demon.

Those who made the inspection for the city were Mayor John Dollins, Fire Chief Ed Bauerle, First Assistant Chief John Fuchs, Second Assistant Chief Charles G. Petersen, Fire Commissioner Ben C. Richards and Street Commissioner J. F. Stamp, while others in the party were Sidewalk Inspector J. B. Strother, Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle.

After the inspection had been completed the party returned to the Central Fire station on Washington street, where a big gathering of fireboys and their friends had gathered, the gathering including practically all branches of the city government, county government and this district. The banquet was in the auditorium upstairs, the tables were beautifully decorated, and filled with tempting and appetizing edibles.

A string band furnished music throughout the banquet, the members of the band being Charles Wilson, John Garcia, A. Sanchez and N. D. Sanchez.

In calling the meeting to order, just before the banquet, Fire Chief Ed Bauerle heartily thanked the mayor, city commissioners, all firemen and others who had aided him during the year in the work of which he has charge, and said that whatever success had been achieved had been largely due to their aid and co-operation. He said Waco's record as to fires had been good, and there had been no really bad fires during the year. The city commission had been liberal to the department and had provided the things needed, he said.

FORMER CHIEFS ARE REMEMBERED.

Mayor John Dollins was asked to speak by Chief Bauerle, and on rising Mayor Dollins asked that all present bow their heads for a moment in memory of the late Chief A. M. Prescott and the late Assistant Chief Eugene Trott, both of whom had passed over into the other world. The mayor said the department was organized in 1873 and had always been an efficient organization. He said that the city government would always do everything consistent with good business for the department, and that was all that could be expected, of course. He felicitated the firemen on their annual coming together in these pleasant occasions.

CHURCHES SHOULD TAKE MORE AGGRESSIVE PART IN AFFAIRS

Dr. Hulten Preaches Stirring Sermon on the Unchristian Religious Program.

"Sin" was the topic of a powerful sermon last night at the First Baptist church by Dr. H. H. Hulten. The large crowd indicated the interest that is being shown in the revivals. Leprosy as an insidious, loathsome, incurable disease was used as a type of sin.

Some of the terse sayings of Dr. Hulten were: "You never can reach the individual through the environment, but you can reach the environment through the individual."

"I saw more drunken men on the streets of Waco today than I have seen in Oklahoma City in four years."

"An ignorant railroad conductor may steal an occasional fare today, but educate him and elect him president and he will steal the whole system."

"Culture won't save. Christ spoke on the leper and new blood coursed through the leper's veins. If he speaks to the sinner, new life courses through his being."

In an interview Dr. Hulten said: "The church of today must not hide itself away behind the cloisters; but must reach out to include not only the religious life, but the social, commercial and political life as well."

"Every great church should contemplate a city-wide program, and the First Baptist church of Waco, because of its fine traditions, its educational prestige, its broad culture and great wealth should lead this comprehensive movement."

There will be no services at the church today. Dr. Hulten will speak three times Sunday, to the assembled Sunday school in the morning at 10 o'clock, and to the church at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The morning topic will be "The Symptom of Jesus"; the evening topic, "The Scriptural Law of Retribution."

Sanitary Bakery Has Two Windows Devoted to Easter Cookery

Display windows of the Sanitary Bakery, 704 Austin avenue, presented a study in culinary delights last night.

One of the windows had a special showing of Easter cookery, including one huge frosted and decorated cake that is a real work of art in the baking line, and two other large cakes which illustrate that a master baker doesn't need a palette and canvas to work out a thing of beauty. French pastries, chocolate dipped kisses and vari-colored eggs and a bunny are other attractions in the window.

The second window is of more stable contents, being devoted to various kinds of breads, rolls and loaves of all kinds. One huge French twist, baked to a rich brown, is a loaf that retails for $1.50, which if multiplied by a dozen would not make Biblical incident of the feeding of the five thousand a miracle at all. Both windows are strong arguments for a toothsome Easter dinner.

A letter was yesterday written by Mayor John Dollins to Superintendent B. B. "You may say that the people of Waco treated me just fine, and that I have enjoyed my stay here thoroughly," said William A. Black of San Antonio, secretary of the Texas Single Tax league, at the Raleigh hotel before leaving Waco.

Most of my time is given to the work at headquarters, but I get out occasionally and meet with the people. This is my first visit to Waco, and I certainly enjoyed it."

Mr. Black received a number of courtesies while here, and also spoke several times.

He left yesterday morning for Corsicana, and will go from there to Houston, then back to San Antonio.

CHURCHES SHOULD TAKE MORE AGGRESSIVE PART IN AFFAIRS

Dr. Hulten Preaches Stirring Sermon on the Unclioistered Religious Program.

"Sin" was the topic of a powerful sermon last night at the First Baptist church by Dr. H. H. Hulten. The large crowd indicated the interest that is being shown in the revivals.

Leprosy as an insidious, loathsome, incurable disease was used as a type of sin.

Some of the terse sayings of Dr. Hulten were:

"You never can reach the individual through the environment, but you can reach the environment through the individual."

"Every great church should contemplate a city-wide program, and the First Baptist church of Waco, because of its fine traditions, its educational prestige, its broad culture and great wealth should lead this comprehensive movement."

There will be no services at the church today.

Dr. Hulten will speak three times Sunday, to the assembled Sunday school in the morning at 10 o'clock, and to the church at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The morning topic will be "The Sympathy of Jesus;" the evening topic, "The Scriptural Law of Retribution."

Sanitary Bakery Has Two Windows Devoted to Easter Cookery

Display windows of the Sanitary Bakery, 704 Austin avenue, presented a study in culinary delights last night.

One of the windows had a special showing of Easter cookery, including one huge frosted and decorated cake that is a real work of art in the baking line, and two other large cakes which illustrate that a master baker doesn't need a palette and canvas to work out a thing of beauty. French pastries, chocolate dipped kisses and vari-colored eggs and a bunny are other attractions in the window.

The second window is of more stable contents, being devoted to various kinds of breads, buns, rolls and loaves of all kinds. One huge French twist, baked to a rich brown, is a loaf that retails for $1.50, which, if multiplied by a dozen would not make Biblical incident of the feeding of the five thousand a miracle at all. Both windows are strong arguments for a toothsome Easter dinner.

A letter was yesterday written by Mayor John Dollins to Superintendent B. B. Cobb of the Waco public schools, officially acquainting Mr. Cobb with the fact that the city commission had taken action looking to having an ordinance brought in and passed providing regulations against reckless or fast auto driving about the schools, and also calling attention to the fact that signs would immediately be made and placed around the public schools, calling on all drivers to drive slowly, warning them that they approached school grounds.

Discussion of the signs and of enforcement of the proposed ordinance was had between the mayor and Chief Guy McNamara of the Waco police force was held yesterday also. The signs will be painted on iron plates, will be set in concrete and will be permanent and slightly.

Dr. Barton Suggests Next Step to Close Cotton Palace Shows

Telegrams were received in Waco yesterday from Dr. A. J. Barton of Dallas, who was to have spoken in Waco Sunday to a mass meeting in opposition to the Sunday opening of the picture shows here, and in these telegrams Dr. Barton expresses gratification that the matter took the turn it did in the courts and that the outlook is for a discontinuance of the Sunday movies. Dr. Barton closed one telegram as follows:

"The next step ought to be to close side shows and exhibits at the Cotton Palace on Sunday. Justice to all concerned and the best interests of the community alike demand that this be done."

7,777 Prizes

First Prize $1,000

What is the 7th Point?

From Maine to California, from Texas to Hudson Bay, millions of people have been asking "What is the 7th Point in Sterling Gum?"

In practically every town, city and village in the United States and Canada, the published six points of superiority have brought Sterling Gum fast-growing popularity.

But the seventh point still remains a riddle.

Point 7 What?

Now, we are offering liberal prizes to those who send us the best suggestions for the Sterling Gum Point 7.

Before you make your suggestion for the 7th Point, read the following:

The Following Story Unfolds the Secret of the Famous Point 7

To most people chewing gum is a mystery. They may know that different chewing gums are made from different ingredients. But that is about all. Here are facts which we believe you will be glad to know about Sterling Gum:

Your Sterling Gum is made from the following materials:

The basis is the pure sap of the tropical Sapota Tree—a natural gum.

This natural Sapota Tree sap is boiled, sweetened and flavored. The sweetening is simply pure cane sugar and pure corn syrup.

The flavoring is of two kinds—Peppermint (in red wrappers), Cinnamon (in blue wrappers).

There are some twenty varieties of the mint plant. The Sterling Peppermint is a product of the choicest, smoothest-flavored of these many mint varieties.

The spicy Cinnamon flavor is extracted from the Cassia bush which grows in the tropics.

The sap of the Sapota Tree, the cane sugar, the corn syrup, the Peppermint and Cinnamon flavors all come from the sap of some plant or tree. Nature herself supplies these delicious materials from which your Sterling Gum is made.

Requirements for Winning Phrase

When you read the above facts on the materials that Sterling Gum is made of, you will know all that it is necessary for you to know in entering this contest.

The first prize will go to the one whose suggestion, based on the above story, most impressively presents the natural purity of Sterling Gum—in the opinion of the judges.

Remember that your suggestion must be in six words or less.

The next best suggestion will win the second prize—and so on down.

It is understood that the Sterling Gum Company will have the right to use the 7 Point suggestions sent in by the prize winners.

The contest is easy to enter. Just think out your way of expressing the 7th Point. Then write it out in six words or less and send it in as directed in the conditions printed below. Even if you don't win the first prize of $1,000, you stand a chance to win one of the 7,777 smaller prizes.

HEADQUARTERS FOR Y. W. C. A. ARE NOW BEING ARRANGED

FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN HAS ALREADY RESULTED IN RAISING $3,350.

As the canvass of the city was not yet completed when the teams reported yesterday at noon, it was decided not to close the financial campaign of the Young Women's Christian association yesterday. Reports from the various teams showed that a total of $3,350 had been subscribed, almost half of which is in cash. As it will be impossible to get definite reports from all names that will be called upon for contributions until the early part of next week, the campaign will not close until the entire canvassing is complete. Five thousand dollars was the mark which the teams set to work to and it is believed that it will be raised by the time every team has completed its work.

Mrs. Edward Rotan was hostess to the teams yesterday at the daily luncheon at which time the reports were made. The Domestic Science club of Waco will prepare and serve the luncheon today which will be the last one that will be tendered during the present financial campaign.

Two more life members have joined the association since the financial campaign was inaugurated. They are Mrs. T. B. Hays and Miss Kate McCulloch, which brings the total life members up to thirteen.

Negotiations were closed yesterday morning for the permanent headquarters for the association, which will be opened the early part of next week. These will occupy the entire second floor of the Early building which is located between Sixth and Seventh streets on Franklin, next to the Pratorian building. Already the remodeling of the building has started and efforts will be made to have the building ready for occupancy by not later than Tuesday. As soon as the building is furnished the local association will be officially opened with a big housewarming, to which the entire membership will be invited.

Arrangements have been made to install a branch of the public library in the association's headquarters. Books will be exchanged with the public library from time to time and will be at the disposal of the association members. Class rooms, gymnasium, reading rooms, rest rooms, parlors, kitchen, etc., will be installed as soon as possible. The headquarters has two entrances, on Franklin street.

Miss Mildred Corbett, southwestern field organizer for the Y. W. C. A., who has supervised both the membership and financial campaign, spoke last night before the membership of the Baylor Y. W. C. A. at the university. She will probably not leave Waco until the new headquarters are opened by the Waco association and some of the features started.

Waco Y. M. B. L. Will Send Large Crowd to Temple Meet

With the hope that Waco will send some eighty members of the local league to the state meeting of the Young Men's Business Leagues at Temple April 26-27, the committee of ten, headed by W. V. Crawford, is working up interest in the annual convention. Waco sent a large delegation to the association last year at Fort Worth and it is believed that a still larger contingent of Wacoans will make the trip to the sister city.

Mr. Crawford, who is president of the state organization, calls attention to the fact that any member in good standing in any member league has the full rights of a delegate and that there are no especially appointed delegates.

Reports from Temple show that a large representation from the various leagues over the state is expected and the entertainment plans include many appealing details. A feature of the courtesies which will be extended to the visitors will be the reception and dance at the Elks hall at Temple on the evening of April 26. The Waco party will leave on the morning of the 26th over the Katy and Santa Fe roads.

Mr. Crawford has been the president of the association since its inception two years ago, and the annual gatherings have been marked by a fine spirit and joyous good time.

About Eighty Have Signed for Y. M. B. L. Trade Excursions

Although no official report has been received from the teams of the Young Men's Business League that have been canvassing the city to get signatures of those who will attend the four summer trade trips, it is estimated that more than eighty names have been secured. W. V. Crawford, chairman of the general committee, stated last night that he felt assured that this number had been passed by the teams not including names that were secured yesterday afternoon by several teams that started out for the first time.

All indications are that the trade trips will be of great benefit to Waco and the Cotton Palace. The first trip will be made over the Cotton Belt on Thursday, May 11. Comanche will be the destination of the trippers and several places between here and Comanche will be visited.

Hiker on 10,000-Mile Journey Speaks at Endeavor Meeting

L. P. McGahan of Chicago, one of whose claims to distinction is that he is making a 10,000-mile hike over the United States advertising the national prohibition convention which meets in St. Paul, Minn., July 19, was a speaker at the regular meeting of the Christian Endeavor union of Waco at the Central Christian church last night. Mr. McGahan is ex-president of the Christian Endeavor at the First Presbyterian church of Chicago and made a strong talk on the growth of the Endeavor movement over the country. Despite the fact the hiker is only 19 years old, he has had much experience because of his desire to travel, and beginning life as the son of a saloonkeeper he was able to speak vividly on the subject of prohibition. Incidentally, McGahan is making his unusual hike without wearing a hat.

"Loyalty" was the subject for the evening and several addresses on this theme were made. The Morrow Street Methodist church won the banner for the best record during the month, and the invitation of the Second Presbyterian church for the next meeting was accepted.

Good Friday Was Observed in Two Local Churches

"The Way of the Cross" was recited in the Church of the Assumption yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, followed by a sermon at 7:30 p. m. by Father O'Sullivan, which dealt with the passion and death of Christ. A solemn high mass will be sung at the church at 8 o'clock, and the morning services will include the blessing of the Paschal candle, the Easter water and the new fire. The Lenten period closes with Holy Saturday.

A baptismal service will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church this Easter evening. Prayer was recited yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Morning services yesterday began at 10:30, and the church was filled with worshippers and a sermon by the rector, Rev. W. P. Witsell, in celebration of Good Friday.

Mr. Pluto and Son Are Improving

Victims of an accident of Wednesday night when an incoming Katy train crashed into an automobile about fourteen miles west of Waco, Mrs. George Pluto and her five-months-old girl were buried yesterday afternoon in the same grave at the Holy Cross cemetery. Funeral services were held at the Church of the Assumption, Very Rev. Dean E. A. Kelly officiating.

Little E. B. Pluto who was seriously injured in the accident was reported to be getting along as well as could be expected at an early hour this morning. Mr. Pluto and the thirteen-year-old boy, William, were reported to be improving rapidly.

HEADQUARTERS FOR Y. W. C. A. ARE NOW BEING ARRANGED

FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN HAS ALREADY RESULTED IN RAISING $3,350.

As the canvass of the city was not yet completed when the teams reported yesterday at noon, it was decided not to close the financial campaign of the Young Women's Christian association yesterday. Reports from the various teams showed that a total of $3,350 had been subscribed, almost half of which is in cash. As it will be impossible to get definite reports from all names that will be called upon for contributions until the early part of next week, the campaign will not close until the entire canvassing is complete. Five thousand dollars was the mark which the teams set to work to and it is believed that it will be raised by the time every team has completed its work.

Mrs. Edward Rotan was hostess to the teams yesterday at the daily luncheon at which time the reports were made. The Domestic Science club of Waco will prepare and serve the luncheon today which will be the last one that will be tendered during the present financial campaign.

Two more life members have joined the association since the financial campaign was inaugurated. They are Mrs. T. D. Hays and Miss Kate McCullough, which brings the total life members up to thirteen.

Negotiations were closed yesterday morning for the permanent headquarters for the association, which will be opened the early part of next week. These will occupy the entire second floor of the Early building which is located between Sixth and Seventh streets on Franklin, next to the Prætorian building. Already the remodeling of the building has started and efforts will be made to have the building ready for occupancy by not later than Tuesday. As soon as the building is furnished the local association will be officially opened with a big housewarming, to which the entire membership will be invited.

Arrangements have been made to install a branch of the public library in the association's headquarters. Books will be exchanged with the public library from time to time and will be at the disposal of the association members. Class rooms, gymnasium, reading rooms, rest rooms, parlors, kitchen, etc., will be installed as soon as possible. The headquarters has two entrances, on Franklin street.

Miss Mildred Corlett, southwest field organizer for the Y. W. C. A., who has supervised both the membership and financial campaign, spoke last night before the membership of the Taylor Y. W. C. A. at the university. She will probably leave Waco until the new headquarters are occupied by the Waco association and some of the features started.

Waco Y. M. B. L. Will Send Large Crowd to Temple Meet

With the hope that Waco will send some eighty members of the local league to the state meeting of the Young Men's Business Leagues at Temple April 26-27, the committee of ten, headed by W. V. Crawford, is working up interest in the annual convention. Waco sent a large delegation to the association last year at Fort Worth and it is believed that a still larger contingent of Wacoans will make the trip to the sister city.

Mr. Crawford, who is president of the organization, calls attention to the fact that any member in good standing in any member league has the full rights of a delegate and that there are no especially appointed delegates. Reports from many towns show that a large representation from the various leagues over the state is expected and the entertainment plans include many appealing details. A feature of the courtesies which will be extended to the visitors will be the reception and dance at the Elks hall at Temple on the evening of April 26. The Waco party will leave on the morning of the 26th over the Katy and Santa Fe roads.

Mr. Crawford has been the president of the association since its inception two years ago, and the annual gatherings have been marked by a fine spirit and joyous good time.

About Eighty Have Signed for Y. M. B. L. Trade Excursions

Although no official report has been received from the teams of the Young Men's Business League that have been canvassing the city to get signatures of those who will attend the four summer trade trips, it is estimated that more than eighty names have been secured. W. V. Crawford, chairman of the general committee, stated last night that he felt assured that this number had been passed by the teams not including names that were secured yesterday afternoon by several teams that started out for the first time.

All indications are that the trade trips will be of great benefit to Waco and the Cotton Palace. The first trip will be made over the Cotton Belt on Thursday, May 11. Comanche will be the destination of the trippers and several places between here and Comanche will be visited.

Hiker on 10,000-Mile Journey Speaks at Endeavor Meeting

L. P. McGahan of Chicago, one of whose claims to distinction is that he is making a 10,000-mile hike over the United States advertising the national prohibition convention which meets in St. Paul, Minn., July 19, was a speaker at the regular meeting of the Christian Endeavor union of Waco at the Central Christian church last night. Mr. McGahan is ex-president of the Christian Endeavor at the First Presbyterian church of Chicago and made a strong talk on the growth of the Endeavor movement over the country. Despite the fact the hiker is only 19 years old, he has had much experience because of his desire to travel, and beginning life as the son of a saloonkeeper he was able to speak vividly on the subject of prohibition. Incidentally, McGahan is making his unusual hike without wearing a hat. "Loyalty" was the subject for the evening and several addresses on this theme were made. The Morrow Street Methodist church won the banner for the best record during the month, and the installation of the Second Presbyterian church for the next meeting was accepted.

Good Friday Was Observed in Two Local Churches

"The Way of the Cross" was recited in the Church of the Assumption yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, followed by a sermon at 7:30 p. m. by Father O'Sullivan, which dealt with the passion and death of Christ. A solemn mass will be sung at the church this morning at 8 o'clock, and the morning services will include the blessing of the Paschal candle, the Easter water and the new fire. The Lenten period closes with Holy Saturday.

Mr. Pluto and Son Are Improving

Victims of an accident of Wednesday night when an incoming Katy train crashed into an automobile about fourteen miles west of Waco, Mrs. George Pluto and her five-months-old girl were buried yesterday afternoon in the same grave at the Holy Cross cemetery. Funeral services were held at the Church of the Assumption, Very Rev. Dean E. A. Kelly officiating. Little E. B. Pluto who was seriously injured in the accident was reported to be getting along as well as could be expected after an early burial. Mr. Pluto and the thirteen-year-old boy, William, were reported to be improving rapidly.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

It was stated yesterday by one or two fruit men who were seen and asked about the damage from frost ten days ago that the early fruit was a bit damaged, but that the late fruit was not injured to any extent.

A pair of pretty and attractive bungalows are nearing completion on Herring avenue between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. These are being erected by W. L. McTeague and will form a fine addition to that section of the city.

Fishing parties who have been out this season say that they have had good success in most cases. They attribute the unusual number of fish to the high water which has been in evidence, this making it possible for the fish to run up the streams and into the ponds.

"We sold a lot of peanuts yesterday, and they are going right along," said Public Weigher Sam Nix, who has charge of the municipal warehouse in which are stored the peanuts which were bought by Cashier W. W. Woodson of the First National bank for planting purposes in this section.

Yesterday proved to be another busy day for the farmers of this country and section. The ground is said to be too wet to plow in the low places even yet. The high winds tended to dry out these low places and to put them where plows again can soon begin a warfare on the weeds and grass, which are now growing pretty fast.

Several nice new country homes are going up in the region round about Waco and it is thought that the good roads improvement has stimulated this improvement of the homes of the country districts. The people are more closely in touch with the city, are as up to date as the city folks on most things and they want nice homes to live in.

The dust which has characterized the use of the squeegee pavement on Austin street thus far will soon disappear, according to those who are familiar with the pavement. It is stated that the entire mass of asphaltic oil and gravel will soon solidify and after that it will become a smooth surface, practically impervious to water and almost perfect.

An effort is being made by the police to locate the parties who stole many different parts of the auto-which was struck by a train on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad near West last Wednesday night, the machine belonging to George D. Pluto. The machine was badly dismantled, and efforts are being made to locate the thieves.

The action taken by the city commission Thursday in asking for an ordinance protecting the children around the public schools from the reckless driving of careless autos was the subject of some comment yesterday. It was generally remarked that the step might have a salutary effect, as while most drivers of machines already are careful, yet there are some who abuse the privileges of running their machines.

Pavement around the tracks of the street railway company on Austin street from Eighth street westward a few blocks is having attention just now and the repairs include the putting in of wooden blocks next to the tracks in places where there has been a wearing away of the pavement. The company has for the past year or two been putting down the blocks as fast as the pavement adjacent to the tracks began to wear away decidedly.

A test is soon to be made by the Texas Power and Light company of the showing of gas which is bubbling out of their artesian well casing in East Waco, coming up on the outside of the inner casing and the larger pipe on the outside. Secretary E. F. Drake of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday inspected the gas, and characterized it as a "remarkable showing." He thinks it is natural gas and that something worth while may come from the investigation which is to be made.

L. Goodman is making some excellent improvements on North Fifth street, and of rather extensive character. He has remodeled two houses and has built a new one at 807. The section has been greatly improved through his enterprise. He has also put down a stretch of new sidewalk and otherwise improved his property. Remarking on the work he has done, Mr. Goodman said yesterday: "Now is a good time to do work of that character, and there is no use in letting Waco go to sleep. If we will all just go ahead and do what we think ought to be done, it will help a great deal right at this time."

Italy Wondering as to Outcome of Sub Dispute

By the Associated Press.

Rome, April 20, via Paris, April 21, 1:15 a. m.—"Either submission or rupture is the dilemma in which President Wilson puts Germany," says the Giornale d'Italia.

The whole press comments on the German-American situation. The Tribune recalls that on other occasions submission or rupture seemed inevitable, but Germany succeeded in finding a way out.

The Idea Nazionale does not think that Germany will surrender and asserts that a rupture of diplomatic relations would not necessarily mean war. This would lead to grave consequences for the future, according to the newspaper.

New G O P Combine on in Illinois

By the Associated Press.

Peoria, Ill., April 21.—Control of the republican party organization in Illinois was wrested from former Gov. Charles S. Deneen of Chicago here today by a new political combination which includes as its leaders Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, Frank O. Lowden and Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago. The state convention endorsed Senator Sherman for presidential electors and then adjourned to reconvene in Peoria September 19, when the delegates will conclude their business by nominating three university trustees and adopting a party platform.

CAUSEY COMES BACK AND, WITH GOOD SUPPORT, PROVES TOO MUCH FOR QUAKERS.

CONWELL FIELDING HERO OF DAY

With Two Men on, Conley Grooves One for Jesse James and Oh, How the Ball Went!

Out in one corner a quinine talked: "Two were on—Jesse James a bat. 'Twas even money and the walk—' But Conley grooved it—think of that!"

Old Knocker and Old Booster went "round and round in the grandstand yesterday. Man, it was a awful fight. First one would be on top and then the other, but when it was all over they were all Boosters.

That's the best thing about these old Naves of ours. The Knocks get a chance at 'em once in a while. They are bound to look bad occasionally. But you take 'em right along day in and day out, and they're a turrly game bunch, never licked and always trying.

That's the reason why Waco ought not to have any Knocks. Knocks are made by a quinine team or an indifferent team or a team that thinks it's too good for the town that supports it. They have none of these traits. They're trying all the time "leveling" a horseman would call it, and as for being too good for the town—well, they're just ordinary old boys that are strong for Waco in the summer at least. Did you ever see 'em so badly beaten that they weren't down? Did you ever see 'em lay down? Nary a lay. That's why there ought not to be any Knocks. What's a few bucks and wild pitches and errors? You don't see many boners pulled, do you? Let's cut out the knocking and boost.

RED AND RED BATTERY FOR NAVS.

Red and Red—that was the Waco battery yesterday. Of course, both of 'em were disguised by regulation baseball players' haircuts and ball players' manieres, and they kept their caps on most of the time. But when Causey and Kuhn got somebody at the plate, they both answered "Oh, I say, Red," they both answered.

Yesterday they wobbled a bit, crossed each other up a little, but they kept struggling along somehow and brought home a win. They were working behind a steady support, but at the good strike came last, both in hitting and fielding, and that was the reason Knocker got his and turned into a booster.

One Conley—a gent with a cross-fire curve—started the game for the Quakers. By the way, the Quakers were a most noisy bunch of chatter-boxes. Conley curve ball on the outside corner. Conley curve ball on the outside corner. Conley curve ball on the outside corner. Conley curve ball on the outside corner. Conley curve ball on the outside corner.

In the meantime Causey's unsteadiness on his first man had resulted in three runs. On his second man, Causey hit that Mal almost handled, Causey balked and then allowed the same man to score by a wild pitch. It was this small advantage that Waco's rally was unexpected. It was the lucky seventh and the score was 3 to 2 against them and Conley appeared to be going wrong. In this seventh—this lucky seventh—Conley and Causey went out quickly. Of course, the center fielder didn't come up to the plate. On the fourth trip, Conley hit a single to center. Then old Pivot Conley got a slashing line drive to right and sure-fire Irish followed with another single.

Here followed a five-corner conference between Welchness, McDough, and Brownlow. It will never be known what they were discussing—whether it was the wisdom of walking James or the pulling of the pitcher. But either way, they guessed wrong.

JESSE JAMES GETS AN OLD-TIME WALKOFF.

With the score a tie and Conley on second and McDough on first, Jesse James hit one about two miles high and a half mile long that cleared off the bases and sent Waco to the top. McDough, who had been stopped three times and took the range of this hit, and then almost got under it. It went plumb over the fence and out people coming down some from a foot from the fence clear off. It was an old-time Jesse James walkoff—that describes it best.

Mal opened the eighth by trying to break a leg for Conley—and a sure success. The blow went for a hit. Welchness then pulled Conley and sent one back to the box. Wohlleben sacrificed Mal to second. Black took a nap and then when he woke up Mal was on third, although Enns dropped the throw that would have at least made a close play. Kuhn then made a perfect sacrifice on a squeeze and Mal scored.

With the game won for himself, Causey went to work. In the ninth Conley went to work. In the ninth Conley went to work. In the ninth Conley went to work. In the ninth Conley went to work. In the ninth Conley went to work.

Pirates Pick Up Opener from Buffs

By the Associated Press.

Houston, Texas, April 21.—A good holiday crowd saw Galveston defeat Houston 5 to 3 in the opening game of the series. Ware replaced Dickson, after Northern had batted for the last time. The Pirates won with the score 5 to 3. Dickson pitched a good game. Barfoot was wild, but effective and was perfectly supported. Score: A. B. R. H. O. A. E. ## L. S. U. TAKES FIRST GAME FROM BAYLOR

PELICAN TWIRLER HOLDS BEARS TO THREE HITS AND WINS 4 TO 1.

Local Collegians Mix Up Nine Errors with Visitors' Seven Bingles.

Baylor opened the series with Louisiana State yesterday afternoon by losing 1 to 4. The game was one of the best exhibitions seen this year, except for an over-abundance of errors on the part of the Baylor infield. The men on both sides fielded sensationally at times, making several brilliant plays, and the game was well worth seeing. The locals, however, piled up nine errors, most of them costly ones.

Wilkinson, for the Pelicans, pitched a three-hit game and let the Baptists down with a single run. Sanderford for the Bears pitched good ball and kept the seven hits that were credited to the visitors well scattered—so much so, in fact, that had it not been for the errors of his team-mates he would have held the visitors to a tie or win, probably.

Wardlow, Tate and Waller each hit twice out of five times up and the sensational work of Wardlow in center was the feature of the game. He stopped many that were labeled for two or three base hits.

Thompson of Baylor caught a great game and with his speed helped Sanderford out of one of the worst holes of the game by partaking of a little effort in the completion of a double play with three on.

Indoor Baseball Court to Open Today on Austin Avenue

An indoor baseball apparatus, with fixtures and surroundings built especially to add to the efficiency of the machine, will be ready for service today at noon at 505 Austin avenue, first door west of the St. Charles hotel. For several days the building which is to be occupied by the court has been undergoing repairs and the apparatus arrived Thursday. There remains some work to be done on the court, but it is believed that everything will be in readiness for the opening at noon today.

Court is being built which is covered over with canvas. An automatic machine pitches the balls and a method of scoring allows the contestants to tell what score they make.

Official Texas league baseballs are used and ordinary baseball bats, such as the "wasp" of the mighty Ty Cobb. Only in the larger cities of Texas are these indoor courts being installed and have thus far proved to be very popular. Ben Corley of Fort Worth will be the proprietor of the concern here.

SHAKESPEARE TERCENTENARY.

Devereux Company Present Drolliest of Comedies on Campus.

There is a spirit of joyousness and gaiety and the effervescence of youth in the repertoire of plays which Clifford Devereux and company will present at Baylor university today. For the opening play he will present the drolliest of Shakespearean comedies, "The Comedy of Errors," at night Goldsmith's, ever-delightful comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer." Of all the old English comedies which are now considered classics none have maintained greater popularity.

The loyal followers of Shakespeare who have been devoting themselves to the presentation of the great poet-dramatist's plays with sturdy resolve, oftentimes with indifferent recognition on the part of the general public, are about to come into their own this year through the renewed enthusiasm excited by the widespread celebration of the tercentenary of the poet-dramatist's death. Among these Shakespearean loyalists Clifford Devereux and his company have won high praise for the intelligence and skill of their presentation of Shakespearean comedy.

HIPPODROME.

"A Modern Thelma."

Three players of more than ordinary fame are found in the cast of "A Modern Thelma," the newest Fox success showing at the Hippodrome today.

These are Vivian Martin, the star, young Harry Hilliard, who plays the male romantic lead, and William H. Tooker, the distinguished stage actor who has recently come into fame as the screen for his work in "The Fool's Revenge." Miss Martin has made but one Fox picture before this one, it being the screen story of her greatest stage play, "Merely Mary Ann," but already the little girl has a host of followers among the appreciative picture fans. Harry Hilliard has been a faithful and an important Fox player for some time, he is young, clean cut, and masculinely handsome. Mr. Tooker plays the part of Guldmar, the father of Thelma, an old viking of a family of vikings to whom defeat in battle or in purpose is worse than death. A character part of unusual force is played by Albert Ricard in the role of the dwarfed servant of the Guldmar, Sigurd.

The scenes of "A Modern Thelma" were made in Georgia in and near the very small village of Tullulah Falls, and the faithfulness with which the atmosphere of Norway is maintained is a credit to America's versatility. As the story goes, the beautiful Norwegian maid, Thelma, is seen and wooed by a young Englishman, Sir Philip Erington. After many difficulties, he wins her and takes her to England. There a jealous woman brings sorrow and grief to an innocent girl and she slips away to her native land before in evidence each night.

Elsie Cole, an entertainer in a class to herself, is to be seen in pianologue and song numbers that carry the crowd her way. Arrayed in gowns of striking fashion, equipped with a pleasing voice and endowed with a charm of manner, Miss Cole proves a favorite before the footlight home on the stage and Anita offer some clever comedy juggling and posing. The "Cowboys' Life at Twilight" is a pretty scene and the lighting effects make a pretty environment for the songs. Wiesner and Reiser put on some black face comedy that makes the average skit of this type seem soggy in comparison with the double distilled humor of this pair. Besides the vaudeville, the Orpheum is showing a Metro film that is easily worth the small admission charge.

Local Collegians Mix Up Nine Errors with Visitors' Seven Bingles.

Baylor opened the series with Louisiana State yesterday afternoon by losing 1 to 4. The game was one of the best exhibitions seen this year, except for an over-abundance of errors on the part of the Baylor infield. The men on both sides fielded sensationally at times, making several brilliant plays, and the game was well worth seeing. The locals, however, piled up nine errors, most of them costly ones.

Wilkinson, for the Pelicans, pitched a three-hit game and let the Baptists down with a single run. Sanderford for the Bears pitched good ball and kept the seven hits that were credited to the visitors well scattered—so much so, in fact, that had it not been for the errors of his team-mates he would have held the visitors to a tie or win, probably.

Wardlow, Tate and Waller each hit twice out of five times up and the sensational work of Wardlow in center was the feature of the game. He stopped many that were labeled for two or three base hits.

Thompson of Baylor caught a great game and with his speed helped Sanderford out of one of the worst holes of the game by partaking of a little effort in the completion of a double play with three on. The score:

Indoor Baseball Court to Open Today on Austin Avenue

An indoor baseball apparatus, with fixtures and surroundings built especially to add to the efficiency of the machine, will be ready for service today at noon at 508 Austin avenue, first door west of the St. Charles hotel. For several days the building which is to be occupied by the concern has been undergoing repairs and the apparatus arrived Thursday. There remains some work to be done on the court, but it is believed that everything will be in readiness for the opening at noon today.

Court is being built which is covered over with canvas. An automatic machine pitches the balls and a method of scoring allows the contestants to tell what score they make.

Official Texas league baseballs are used and ordinary baseball bats, such as the "weapon" of the mighty Ty Cobb. Only in the larger cities of Texas are these indoor courts being installed and they have thus far proved to be very popular. Ben Corley of Fort Worth will be the proprietor of the concern here.

Beginning at 10:30 o'clock this morning, a magnificent collection of Chinese and Japanese art curios, antiques and beautiful hand-worked kimono and art draperies, screens and the like, will be put on sale at the headquarters of the Tokio Art Association, 414 Austin avenue. The collection contains a fine showing of Chippendale furniture, said to be the only sets in existence. Many of the furniture pieces are very elaborate and ornately carved and inlaid in Roman gold.

Many of the jars in the collection date back some 150 years and show a richness of design and perfection of workmanship that is seldom equaled in the art of the modern times. Hand embroidered screens, exquisite tea sets, and the like are presented in a profusion of designs and shapes.

Immunable articles from tiny human-like figures up to the large, luxurious carved furniture sets are to be seen in the quarters occupied by the Art association. Visitors will be cordially welcomed to the exhibition and sale.

Orpheum Is Host to Working Boys' Club at a Star Program

One hundred and fifty youngsters of the Working Boys' club had a great time at the Orpheum theatre last night as the guests of the management. It is said that a lad can ensure other specimens of the genus homo on the globe and the boys' merriment was shown into a high gear last night.

And well might the lads have enjoyed the show for the Pantases bill is an appealing one this week, as attested by the full houses that are in evidence each night.

Elsie Cole, an entertainer in a class by herself, is to be seen in pianologue and song numbers that carry the crowd her way.

Arranged in gowns of striking fashion, equipped with a pleasing voice and endowed with a charm of manner, Miss Cole proves a favorite before the footlights.

Willisch and Anita offer some clever comedy juggling and posing. The "Cowboys' Life at Twilight" is a pretty scene and the lighting effects make a pretty environment for the songs.

Wiesser and Reeser put on some black face comedy that makes the average skit of this type seem soggy in comparison with the double distilled humor of this pair.

Besides the vaudeville, the Orpheum is showing a Metro film that is easily worth the small admission charge.

SHAKESPEARE TERCENTENARY.

Devereux Company Present Drollest of Comedies on Campus.

There is a spirit of joyousness and gaiety and the effervescence of youth in the repertoire of plays which Clifford Devereux and company will present at Baylor university today. For the opening play he will present the drollest of Shakespearean comedies—"The Comedy of Errors" at night Goldsmith's, ever-delightful comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer." Of all the old English comedies which are now considered classics none have maintained greater popularity.

The loyal followers of Shakespeare who have been devoting themselves to the presentation of the great poet-dramatist's plays with sturdy resolve, oftentimes with indifferent recognition on the part of the general public, are about to come into their own this year through the renewed enthusiasm excited by the widespread celebration of the tercentenary of the poet-dramatist's death. Among these Shakespearean loyalists Clifford Devereux and his company have won high praise for the intelligence and skill of their presentation of Shakespearean comedy.

HIPPODROME.

Three players of more than ordinary fame are found in the cast of "A Modern Thelma," the newest Fox success showing at the Hippodrome today. These are Vivian Martin, the star, young Harry Hillard, who plays the male romantic lead, and William H. Tooker, the distinguished stage actor who has recently come into fame on the screen for his work in "The Pool's Revenge."

Miss Martin has made but one Fox picture before this one, it being the screen story of her greatest stage play, "Merely Mary Ann," but already the little girl has a host of followers among the admirers of the stage. Harry Hillard has been a faithful and an important Fox player for some time, he is young, clean cut, and masculinely handsome.

Mr. Tooker plays the part of Guldmar, the father of Thelma, an old viking of a family of vikings to whom defeat in battle or in purpose is worse than death. A character part of unusual force is played by Albert Ricard in the role of the dwarfed servant of the Guldmars, Sigurd.

The scenes of "A Modern Thelma" were made in Georgia in and near the very small village of Tullulah Falls, and the faithfulness with which the atmosphere of Norway is maintained is a credit to America's versatility. As the story goes, the beautiful Norwegian maid, Thelma, is seen and wooed by a young Englishman, Sir Philip Erington. After many difficulties, he wins her and takes her to England.

There a jealous woman brings sorrow and grief to an innocent girl and she slips away to her native land before evidence each night.

Elsie Cole, an entertainer in a class by herself, is to be seen in pianologue and song numbers that carry the crowd her way.

Arranged in gowns of striking fashion, equipped with a pleasing voice and endowed with a charm of manner, Miss Cole proves a favorite before the footlights.

Willisch and Anita offer some clever comedy juggling and posing. The "Cowboys' Life at Twilight" is a pretty scene and the lighting effects make a pretty environment for the songs.

POLICE NAB SUSPECT BELIEVED HUNTER IN OTHER TEXAS TOWNS

With two good sized grips about full of jewelry, watches, brushes and other things which are thought to have been taken from parties in Waco, Galveston, Dallas and other places, the police department has gathered in a man who is believed to be an expert in burglary operations.
Chief Guy McNamara and Brandon and Craven of the detective department of the police force of the city, were the ones who worked on the case, arresting the man on the south side of the square as he was coming out of a Mexican boarding house. A search revealed the fact that he had enough jewelry to go into business for himself.
Telephone messages were yesterday sent to other cities regarding some of the things found in the man's possession, one of these articles being a beautiful gold watch, double case, handsomely curved and engraved, with diamond setting in the center. It is thought that this watch, which the police estimate to be worth by itself about $150, was stolen in another Texas city, and Detective R. H. Hall said yesterday that the department had the number of this watch, which had been sent in by the owner when it was taken. There is also another fine gold watch in the collection.
The man being held said that he is a Dane but has spent his life in Mexico.

FEDERAL ENGINEERS INSPECT BRAZOS DAM

Col. J. C. Sanford of New Orleans, one of the chief federal engineers of the southwestern section of the waterways of the United States? Col. S. Riche of Galveston, in charge of Texas waterways, and his assistant, Major John W. Henderson, were in Waco yesterday and in company with W. W. Seley, head of the Brazos Valley and River Improvement association, visited the lock and dam which was built ten miles below the city as a part of the plan of the federal government to make the Brazos river susceptible of light draught navigation.
The party went down in autos yesterday morning, returning to the city between 2 and 3 o'clock, and the inspection made of the work done was satisfactory. It was found that some damage had been done by the recent heavy rise in the river, but this damage was confined to the east bank of the river where the swirling currents, bearing on with great impetus towards the gulf, had cut a kind of natural spillway around the eastern end of the great concrete dam which said to the waters of an ordinary rise. "Pause ye here." Plans for correcting this trouble permanently were made, and the banks will be placed in such a condition as to make a recurrence of the trouble impossible.
It is thought that it will not require more than a few weeks to do this extra work, and that it will constitute a permanent guaranty of the impounding of the waters in such manner as that they will spill over the dam when they get high enough without doing any damage whatever on the sides.

WANT OBSERVANCE TEXAS FIRE LAWS

That there is soon going to be required a strict observance of the state fire escape law and of the provisions of the city charter of Waco on this subject is the statement made by City Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle.
Mr. Carlisle says that nothing unreasonable or impractical is to be attempted, but that a safe and sane enforcement will be required, and that it will affect forty to fifty buildings in the city, most of these being hotels, boarding houses and apartments of that character, though there are a number of other structures which will be included.
"There is a general spirit of co-operation in the matter as far as we have gone, and it looks as though we will not have much trouble in reaching an agreement with those who are affected," said Fire Marshal Carlisle yesterday. He declared that the matter was one which was receiving much attention, and that it will be vigorously pushed until it was made a reality. There are said to be a number of places in Waco where the law is not complied with.

San Antonio Installs White Way System

That the iron posts have arrived in San Antonio for an ornamental lighting scheme of large proportions, and that the posts will be on the edges of the sidewalks as the lights project over the street, four posts to the block, was the statement made by J. B. Gilmer, general baggage agent of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad at San Antonio, while in Waco yesterday.
Mr. Gilmer, who was formerly an actice and energetic member of the Y. M. B. L. in Waco, said that the posts which had arrived in San Antonio were of ornamental character and that other posts are to be taken down, adding much to the appearance of the streets where they are to be placed.
He congratulated Waco on the proposed plan of lighting the main thoroughfare of this city, and said that care should be exercised in getting the lights arranged right here.

POLICE NAB SUSPECT BELIEVED WANTED IN OTHER TEXAS TOWNS

With two good sized grips about full of jewelry, watches, brushes and other things which are thought to have been taken from parties in Waco, Galveston, Dallas and other places, the police department has gathered in a man who is believed to be an expert in burglary operations.

Chief Guy McNamara and Brandon and Craven of the detective department of the police force of the city, were the ones who worked on the case, arresting the man on the south side of the square as he was coming out of a Mexican boarding house. A search revealed the fact that he had enough jewelry to go into business for himself.

Telephone messages were yesterday sent to other cities regarding some of the things found in the man's possession, one of these articles being a beautiful gold watch, double case, handsomely carved and engraved, with diamond setting in the center. It is thought that this watch, which the police estimate to be worth by itself about $150, was stolen in another Texas city, and Detective R. H. Hall said yesterday that the department had the number of this watch, which had been sent in by the owner when it was taken. There is also another fine gold watch in the collection.

The man being held says that he is a Dane but has spent his life in Mexico.

FEDERAL ENGINEERS INSPECT BRAZOS DAM

Col. J. C. Sanford of New Orleans, one of the chief federal engineers of the southwestern section of the waterways of the United States, Col. C. S. Riche of Galveston, in charge of Texas waterways, and his assistant, Major John W. Henderson, were in Waco yesterday and in company with W. W. Seely, head of the Brazos Valley and River Improvement association, visited the lock and dam which was built ten miles below this city as a part of the plan of the federal government to make the Brazos river susceptible of light draught navigation.

The party went down in autos yesterday morning, returning to the city between 2 and 3 o'clock, and the inspection made of the work done was satisfactory. It was found that some damage had been done by the recent heavy rise in the river, but this damage was confined to the east bank of the river where the swirling currents, bearing on with great impetus towards the gulf, had cut a kind of natural spillway around the eastern end of the great concrete dam which said to the waters of an ordinary rise: "Pause ye here." Plans for correcting this trouble permanently were made, and the banks will be placed in such a condition as to make a recurrence of the trouble impossible.

It is thought that it will not require more than a few weeks of extra work, and that it will constitute a permanent guaranty of the impounding of the waters in such manner as that they will spill over the dam when they get high enough without doing any damage whatever on the sides.

WANT OBSERVANCE TEXAS FIRE LAWS

That there is soon going to be required a strict observance of the state fire escape law and of the provisions of the city charter of Waco on this subject is the statement made by City Fire Marshal Joe Carlisle. Mr. Carlisle says that nothing unreasonable or impractical is to be attempted, but that a safe and sane enforcement will be required, and that it will affect forty to fifty buildings in the city, most of these being hotels, boarding houses and apartments of that character, though there are a number of other structures which will be included.

"There is a general spirit of co-operation in the matter as far as we have gone, and it looks as though we will not have much trouble in reaching an agreement with those who are affected," said Fire Marshal Carlisle yesterday. He declared that the matter was one which was receiving much attention, and that it will be vigorously pushed until it was made a reality. There are said to be a number of places in Waco where the law is not complied with.

San Antonio Installs White Way System

That the iron posts have arrived in San Antonio for an ornamental lighting scheme of large proportions, and that the posts will be on the edges of the sidewalks with the lights projecting over the street, four posts to the block, was the statement made by J. H. Gilmer, general baggage agent of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad at San Antonio, while in Waco yesterday.

Mr. Gilmer, who was formerly an actor and energetic member of the Y. M. B. L. in Waco, said that the posts which had arrived in San Antonio were of ornamental character and that other posts are to be taken down, adding much to the appearance of the streets where they are to be placed.

He congratulated Waco on the proposed plan of lighting the main thoroughfare of this city, and said that care should be exercised in getting the lights arranged right here.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

By the Associated Press.
New York, April 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Flood tide aspects characterize demand, with superabundant activity stamping most movements in manufacturing and mercantile lines. While the more serious turn in our international political relations tends to cause concern and some of the lowest prices of the year in stock market securities, effects in other directions thus far have been almost entirely negligible."

"A few other cross-currents are visible here and there, conspicuous in this respect being cases in southern pig iron lower prices for coke, deferring of building projects, because of extraordinary high quotations, irregularity in the western retail trade, due entirely to the weather. However, some sagging in raw silk and the continued restless attitude of labor was apparent."

"But beyond everything is the strong fact that the country's producing units are sold up, and therefore it is quite useless to place orders for anything like nearby delivery. Weekly bank clearings $4,582,662,000."

Austin St. Residents Want White Way Extended Out

The iridescent glow and the "lurid lure" of the White Way for Austin street has already reached beyond Ninth and Austin in prospect, where it was planned to stop it for the present, and the call seems to have penetrated up about as far as Twelfth on that street, anyway, and telephone calls yesterday and the day before went in fast to President Perry Duncan of the Y. M. B. L., asking him to see if the way could not be extended on up Austin street if the citizens there will co-operate.

The calls came from citizens living on Austin street beyond Ninth street, and it was stated that very active aid will be forthcoming if the lights can be extended further out than thoroughfare. President Duncan told the parties he would see what could be done, and it is his opinion that if there is sufficient interest and co-operation beyond Ninth that then the ornamental street lighting may be extended to cover the street as far as Twelfth. But the aid will have to be of the practical kind.
